Is Choked, Beaten and Robbed By TWO FOOTPADS

ALL BANKS ARE OPEN

No Advantage Taken of Legal Holiday and No Fears Expressed or Felt of Any Financial Trouble.

Despite the legal holiday authorized by Governor Gillett in this state the banks opened for business this morning as usual and from every section there is nothing but the most favorable reports.

The San Francisco and Oakland banks are open and doing business. The head of the clearing house in Salt Lake City reports the banks there ready to finance any deal. Los Angeles banks are in good condition and their reports are that everything is sound.

French and English stock markets are more active and confidence is restored. The New York stock market is showing gains and the general financial sky is clearing.

QUIET AMONG S. F. BANKS

All Places Open and No Withdrawals Are Made.

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 31—The State Bank Commissioners this morning began their examination of the affairs of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company which closed its doors yesterday for the announced reason that it was unable to obtain money for immediate use not being a member of the Clearing House. It was stated for the commissioners that they would not make any announcement until their investigation is completed.

All of the San Francisco banks commercial savings and trust opened their doors this morning and are doing business as usual. Deposits have fallen off to some extent in the smaller institutions but the big banks report a normal inflow. The commercial banks are making loans to regular customers and no [illegible] position on the part of depositors to take unusual advantage of credit at this time is reported. The savings banks are generally exercising discretion in honoring withdrawal applications. The checking out of large amounts is discouraged alike by the rule of notification and the fact that the Governor has instituted legal holidays.

Advices from all of the principal points in California report the banks open and doing normal business.

About $1,000,000 has been deposited by New York banks today on account of balances of San Francisco banks and the telegraphic transfer of these deposits through the sub-treasury here has served to lessen the strain.

President I. W. Hellman of the Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank and the Union Trust Company today repeated the statement made by him last night that any sound San Francisco bank which has been doing a legitimate banking business will receive whatever assistance may be required whether or not it holds membership in the Clearing House.

COURTS ARE CLOSED FOR THE HOLIDAY

The judges of the Superior Court and the county officials met in conference this morning and it was decided not to hold court until Governor Gillett decided to call off the holidays. A telegram was received in the county clerk's office this morning from C. F. Curry, Secretary of State which read as follows: Governor Gillett has declared Thursday October 31 a legal holiday in view of the unsettled financial situation in San Francisco and California. Succeeding holidays will be declared until the crisis is over.

It was decided at the conference that under the recent amendment to the laws the courts must close during the holidays but that the county offices could remain open. The county officials decided to keep their respective offices open.

Suits may be filed and attachments secured from the county clerk. The county treasury will cash warrants. County Recorder Grim's office was open as usual and legal papers put on record.

NO ALARM FELT HERE

Local Bankers Are Not Worried Over Affairs.

In the Oakland banks there is nothing to indicate that anything unusual is taking place in financial circles.

The clearing house this morning decided that it would not take advantage of the legal holiday which had been proclaimed by the governor but would open for business as usual merely following the course which had been adopted after the San Francisco fire regarding the payment of checks and deposits.

When the banks opened everything was quiet and business apparently on a normal condition and all of the bankers expressed themselves well satisfied with the situation.

IGNORED HOLIDAY

A meeting of the clearing house directors was held this morning at which it was decided said W. W. Crane cashier of the Union National Bank to ignore the fact that a legal holiday had been declared keep the banks open do business as usual paying such amounts to depositors as would cover their immediate wants and pay out money to cover payrolls. We are even honoring small checks but until normal conditions are restored large checks will not be paid. The situation here is in fact perfectly satisfactory and everything is proceeding in the even tenor of its way. This bank is in no sense affected by the closing of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company and has no more to do with it than it has with any other bank in San Francisco. The only point of contact between the two is that J. Dalzell Brown who is a stockholder and an officer in the Safe Deposit and Trust Company is an officer and stockholder in this bank.

AMONG THE STATE BANKS

Most of Them Decide to Keep on Doing Business.

OPEN AT SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO Oct 31—At a meeting of the Sacramento Clearing House official last night it was decided that the local banks will remain open today as usual. The Sacramento banks are all in excellent condition and none of them fears a panic. The banks expect to continue their business as usual whether more holidays are declared or not.

San Diego All Right

SAN DIEGO Oct 31—All banks are open today as usual regardless of the holiday declaration of Governor Gillett. Business was being transacted as usual and there were more people at the receiving than at the paying windows. There is no expectation of disturbance and the banks have ample funds to meet all that may come.

Bakersfield Banks Open

BAKERSFIELD Oct 31—The banks here opened today as usual for the transaction of business without reference to the holiday declared by the governor. At a meeting of the representatives of the five banks held last evening the clearing house plan of operation in other cities was however adopted.

PROMPT ACTION OF FINANCIER PRAISED

NEW YORK Oct 31—Financiers today are sounding the praises of William A Nash president of the Clearing House whose prompt action in insisting upon the issuance of certificates after consultation with J Pierpont Morgan and other leaders of finance did much to restore public confidence. Nash's action has called a prompt halt on financial gambling, and has restored the equilibrium of the market.

TALBOT CASE GOES OVER

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE)

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 31 — Considerable argument took place between counsel on both sides in the divorce case of William H Talbot this morning as to whether or not an adjournment should be taken on account of the legal holiday declared by the Governor.

Judge Sewell rather preferred that the case be heard but counsel agreed that later on in connection with the consideration of the bills of exception the evidence taken at the trial today might not be considered by a higher court for the reason that the Governor had legally declared it a holiday.

It was decided therefore that the hearing should be postponed until Monday but with the agreement that if Monday is also a holiday a further adjournment will be taken.

Rockefeller Corners Home Labor Market

NEW YORK Oct 31—John D Rockefeller has cornered the labor market in the neighborhood of Tarrytown. Contractors and others needing workmen and teams cannot obtain them. All such are employed by Rockefeller and as he pays better wages and works his men shorter hours than the ordinary contractor he holds the labor.

Rockefeller is building his new home on Pocantico Hill and advantage of the fine weather is being taken to lay out drives and do grading. Every laborer who comes along is put to work.

Eight-Months-Old Babe Weighs Just 110 Pounds

CHICAGO, Oct. 31—A dispatch to the Tribune from Parkersburg W. Va. says: A remarkable freak of nature is an infant of W. H. Banes an employe of a factory at Matoaka. The babe which is named William Edward Banes is only 8 months old and weighs 110 pounds. The babe at birth was of normal weight but has increased steadily in weight until it is now a prodigy and weighs almost as much as its mother.

TALL AND SHORT MEN AT WORK

Garrotte a Sailor, Stealing All His Money and Valuables.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE)

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 31—Claiming that he had been choked and robbed by two men in the darkness on Sagamore street near Plymouth Isaac McCoy rushed into the Ocean View station early this morning to summon aid.

McCoy told Officers Casey and Cronin who were on duty that he was proceeding slowly along the street when a tall and a short man stepped from the shadow of a tree and while one of them put his fingers tightly around the man's neck the other removed $6 and a cheap watch which he had in his pocket and both made off down the street.

The police immediately made a search for the robbers but were unable to locate them.

GIRL'S ASSAILANT QUICKLY CAPTURED

Police Arrest Frank Logan for Attack on Pretty Miss Margaret Belasco.

On suspicion that he was the man who had attacked Miss Margaret Belasco in the doorway of her home 1761 Grove street on Tuesday evening the police last night arrested Frank Logan a solicitor for a Berkeley photograph gallery. This morning Miss Belasco visited the city prison and positively identified Logan as her assailant. For the present the accused man is being held on the small book until the police decide what charge shall be entered against him.

Logan is well known by the local police authorities. He has served several sentences in the city prison and a short time ago he was arrested on a charge of beating his aged mother. Owing to her refusal to prosecute him this charge was dismissed.

Miss Belasco alleges that on Tuesday evening Logan came to her home and representing himself as a photographer asked whether she did not want her picture taken. Receiving a negative answer he stepped into the hallway and attempted to kiss her. When she repulsed him Logan forced her into a side room and attempted to throttle her. By a superhuman effort the girl managed to break away from his grasp and ran screaming to the window. Frightened by her cries the fellow made his escape through the front door before aid arrived. The police were notified at once and a complete description of the man was obtained from Miss Belasco. Believing that the description was that of Logan Captain Petersen issued orders to the patrolmen of the city to pick him up. He was found on Seventh street shortly after 9 o'clock last night and Miss Belasco identified him this morning.

HOLIDAY SENDS FORD TRIAL OVER ONE DAY

Motion Was Made by the Prosecution Citing as Basis Recent Oakland Decision.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE)

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 31—The trial of Tirey L Ford for alleged bribery was this morning postponed by Judge Lawlor until tomorrow owing to the fact that Governor Gillett had proclaimed this a legal holiday. Judge Lawlor asked the prosecution and the defense for their opinion as to whether or not it would be legal for the trial to proceed. O'Gara for the prosecution cited an Oakland case in which the verdict had been reversed on the grounds that it had been tried on a legal holiday.

The defense concurred in O'Gara's view of the matter and Judge Lawlor ordered an adjournment until 9:30 tomorrow morning to enable both sides to look up authorities on this point.

Disappointment was expressed by both sides as the questions of whether or not William M Abbott assistant general counsel of the United Railroads and co-defendant with Ford could be forced to testify.

Abbott was called to the stand yesterday afternoon and refused to testify on the grounds that he was indicted on the same charge with Ford and would sooner or later be put on trial. This point was argued for an hour and a half yesterday afternoon.

FIREMEN HURT IN $500,000 BLAZE

CHICAGO Oct 31—Seven firemen were overcome by smoke and a loss of $300,000 was caused in a fire in the five story building at State and Quincy streets occupied by the Holden Shoe Company early today.

The fire broke out in the top floor in the repair department and before the firemen arrived had spread to the next floor below. The burning leather filled the building with a dense smoke and the firemen unable to enter the structure were compelled to fight the flames from the roofs of adjoining buildings. The firemen were on a fire escape at the time when they were overcome.

D M McIntosh, manager of the concern, said that the company carried a stock of over $150,000 and that the entire stock was ruined.

It is estimated that the building was damaged to the extent of $50,000. Traffic on State street was tied up for more than two hours. The cause of the fire is not known.

CHICAGO Oct 31—A dispatch to the Tribune from Phila N M says: Riding a horse near here yesterday Ben Johnson 16 years old ran the animal into a barbed wire fense and completely severed his own foot but carrying the severed member he rode into the town a mile, for treatment, and did not faint.

AMONG THE STATE BANKS

optimistic than ever. Bank deposits are increasing even beyond expectations.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 31.—The legal holiday proclaimed by Governor Gillette was not observed by local bankers. All financial institutions opened at the usual hour and business was transacted in the customary form. Santa Barbara banks have plenty of money.

STOCKTON SOUND.

STOCKTON, Oct. 31.—Stockton banks will not close during the holiday season, but will display signs announcing that it is a legal holiday. They will take care of their customers as usual. All the banks opened as usual this morning, and they will pay out money on checks for local business.

Montana

Expects No Flurry in Banks.

HELENA, Montana, Oct. 31.—There is no change in the local financial situation. No restrictions have been placed on withdrawals, nor have there been any unusual demands upon local banks. The bankers feel that the strained situation is rapidly drawing to a close and they anticipate no excitement in this State. They are prepared, however, for any emergency. It is improbable that either certificates, notices or holidays will be utilized.

IDAHO

Banks Are Entirely Sound.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Oct. 31.—Governor Gooding of Idaho sent the following dispatch to the Evening Telegram:

"Financial conditions in Idaho are entirely sound. The State has never been more prosperous. So far as can be learned not a single withdrawal of funds has been made from any of the banks of Boise since the present difficulty began. Reports from all parts of the State are of the same tenor."

Salt Lake Ready for Any Deal

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 31.—On this, the second day since the adoption of the clearing house certificate plan by the banks of Salt Lake and the restriction of withdrawals of cash to $100 at a time and $300 per week, business is going in all lines as smoothly as ever.

President Charles S. Burton of the clearing house says the banks will be fully able to finance any deal that any of their customers may wish to make, whether it be here or in China.

which, though dated yesterday, was not received until today.

The army command consisted of four officers, seventy four men and three Indian scouts. The telegram to the Indian Bureau, which was dated at Ship Rock, N. M., follows

"The troops have returned from Southern Utah. They arrested Bylillie and nine other Indians. Three others were killed and one wounded while shooting at the Indians. The Indians are quiet and I don't anticipate further trouble."

The officials of the Indian Bureau assume that the killed and wounded were Indians.

CONFIDENCE IS RESTORED

NEW YORK, October 31.—The restoring of public confidence is indicated by the diminished interest taken in the financial situation, which tries to readjust itself to a normal basis. The gold engagements were increased today by $1,500,000 bringing the total up $23,750,000.

The Bank of England's increased rate loan was fully expected and was better than expected as the advance was six per cent when the Bank of England protected its gold stock against withdrawals from the United States.

The stock market fluctuations did not differ materially from those of ordinary times. The market in general was very strong. Several of the banking institutions which have experienced recent difficulty held meetings during the day and readjusted their affairs and resumed business and a few runs which have been going on amounted to nothing.

WEATHER REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—San Francisco and vicinity, Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys: Fair tonight and Friday; light northwest wind.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM SAY S. F. BANKERS

Experts Began Work Today On Books of the California Safe Deposit Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—There was no particular flurry or excitement in the banking district today, occasioned by the suspending of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company yesterday afternoon and the declaring by the Governor of a legal holiday.

A slightly larger crowd than usual appeared at the offices of the various banks and anxious faces were observed among those who called at the downtown branch of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company. In the majority of the banks the directors held a meeting to consider the financial situation, but the general concensus of opinion seems to be that there was no cause for alarm. The news that from $500,000 to $600,000 in cash had been deposited in New York City to the credit of the San Francisco banks relieved considerable anxiety that had been felt on the part of those banks who were a little short of ready money.

At a meeting of representatives of the various banks held late last night, it was decided to open today as usual, and a regular business was transacted.

The directors of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company have employed an expert to go over their books and make a report on their financial condition for the benefit of their patrons. A letter has been sent to Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou requesting him to order that the gold on deposit by the local banks in the branch treasury in this city be paid out, but up to noon no reply had been received from the government official.

Business men along Van Ness avenue and Fillmore street report a considerable decrease in the amount of receipts taken in during the morning, but it is not thought that any of them are in any particular danger of financial ruin.

OAKLAND CLEARING HOUSE ENDORSES GOVERNOR'S ACT

The Oakland Clearing House Association held a meeting early this morning to consider the action of the Governor in calling holidays. Although the main business centers of the State were not in any need of this action, it was generally approved by the association as being a wise and proper precaution to be taken in order to protect the interior banks and allow them time in which to arrange to obtain their balances from their New York, San Francisco and other correspondents. All the banks are open, notwithstanding the holiday, so that all proper and necessary funds would be available for commercial transactions, and thereby keep business moving in normal channels.

HOLIDAY NOT OBSERVED BY BANKS OF LOS ANGELES

Members of Clearing House Association Will Fully Protect All Their Banks.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—The declaration of a legal holiday today by Governor Gillett was entirely without effect so far as the financial institutions of Los Angeles were concerned. All banks and trust companies opened and transacted business as usual, and there were no evidences of any change whatever from yesterday. Some slight change was necessary in minor matters to conform to the legal requirements of a holiday, but these had no important effect. Local bankers were united in saying that the situation here was in such good order that the declaration of legal holidays was not required.

SOUTH IS SOUND.

J. M. Elliott, president of the First National Bank and one of the best banking authorities in the city, said to the Associated Press:

"There is no insecurity felt among reputable financial institutions anywhere in Southern California, nor any reason for such a feeling. The Clearing House Association of this city will not only protect every one of its members in Los Angeles, but also will stand by any reputable bank of the surrounding country which might find itself inconvenienced for cash. We are standing together in this matter and there is not the slightest danger or apprehension. Patrons take the situation calmly, and there is no disposition to dispute the precautions for safety that have been taken."

NO DANGER.

Asked with reference to the trust companies of the city, which are outside of the protection of the Clearing House Association, Mr. Elliott was confident that they were in good shape. "Practically all of them," he said, "are connected more or less closely with some bank which is a member of the Clearing House Association, and the individual banks will look out for their protection. There is no danger in that direction, either, I think."

HIGHER BANK RATE COOLS LONDON MART

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The sale of discount for the Bank of England was raised today from 4½ to 5½ per cent. The increase had been regarded as a foregone conclusion by having inroads made upon the Bank of England's stock of gold by the demand from America and the recent rise in the discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany.

Since last Thursday the United States secured about 2,250,000 pounds in gold from the Bank of England and in the open market as did the bank's reserve has been reduced slightly below 21,700,000 pounds which, however, was 25,500,000 pounds higher than at this time last year when the bank rate was six per cent. It was hoped early in the month that the Bank of England might finish the year without increasing the rate but the financial flurry in America upset their calculations and caused unwelcome pressure here, necessitating protective measures. Apart from the American demands, the Egyptian requirements for the movement of the huge cotton crop of that country have yet to be satisfied and money is wanted in Brazil and Germany.

Banks Open Inthe North

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 31.—Governor Mead has declared a legal holiday for the balance of this week. This measure was taken principally for the protection of the country banks, their requests for money having been denied by the banks in the clearing-house cities.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 31.—The associated bankers of Seattle unanimously decided to ignore the legal holiday declared by Governor Mead on the ground that it was absolutely needless, and his action was criticised as uncalled for and hasty.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 31.—Tacoma banks are open for business today, notwithstanding it is a legal holiday. All checks for depositors up to $100 will be paid in cash.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 31.—Although Governor Mead has declared a holiday for today to clear the situation among the banks, the Spokane banks will keep open for business. While they are using the clearing house for payment of checks, they claim there is plenty of cash on hand. Two of the banks are paying all their own depositors in cash when required.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 31.—But one bank, the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, failed to open yesterday. President J. Thoburn Ross stated that his institution had decided to take advantage of the governor's holiday proclamation, and will remain closed until Monday. The Title Guarantee is not a member of the Clearing House Association, though the association offered to extend to it all the privileges of the clearing house, including the banking of the clearing house certificates.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 31.—At 2 o'clock this morning the Associated banks decided to adopt the clearing house certificate plan of making payments and opened on this basis this morning. Withdrawals are limited to $100. This action was made necessary by the refusal of the interior depositories to supply the local banks with currency.

Currency For Western Post Offices

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The Chicago postoffice went to the rescue of postoffices in the West in a material way yesterday as a result of the financial stringency. Postmasters in many towns were seriously handicapped by the lack of currency with which to pay money orders, and a hearty call was sent to Chicago for aid. The appeal will probably result in this city sending out a considerable amount of currency, as at Postmaster Campbell's office it was said there was plenty of money on hand.

viewed: "We have agreed to issue a statement through the clearing house which will cover the whole banking situation in this city. Everything is going on here satisfactorily. We are doing business just as we did during the earthquake period. Depositors are paid just such money as they require to cover their necessities. There is no flurry here and no occasion for one. The situation as you see it today will continue just as long as there will be any occasion for it. The situation will adjust itself naturally, just as it did before."

W. G. Palmanteer, vice-president and general manager of the Central Bank, was in a particularly cheerful frame of mind. "Conditions in Oakland," he said, "are fine. We could not expect them to be better.

GOVERNOR'S WISE ACT.

"The Governor acted very wisely in the course he has pursued. It has worked for the good of the State and the country at large."

"The situation is satisfactory on this side of the bay," reported W. G. Henshaw, president of the Union Savings Bank. "The only change is that being a legal holiday, collections are not made. But if no action had been taken by the clearing house in San Francisco there would not have been a ripple to be seen on the surface in this city. We are open for business to accommodate the people just as they were being accommodated after the fire. They are all evidently from their conduct satisfied and contented. That expresses the situation here."

Cashier Smith of the Security Bank spoke in the same encouraging strain. Business is being conducted, he said, on strictly clearing house regulations and everything is proceeding satisfactorily. "All that the people need," he added, "is to exercise patience. All of the banks in Oakland are in splendid condition."

"Everything is moving along quietly here," said Cashier Walters of the First National Bank. There is not the slightest excitement. We don't intend there shall be. The banks are all standing together and will control the situation until matters across the bay reach a normal condition. The trouble with some people on an occasion like this is not that they want the money they have on deposit, but that they are seized with a desire to find out whether they can get it, and these are the foolish people that always start a stampede. We are paying out such amounts as are needed to cover necessities, and conducting business as it was done after the earthquake and fire."

BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Oct. 31.—Notwithstanding the Governor's proclamation of a legal holiday in view of the unsettled financial condition of the country, the banks of this city are opened for business, and people can obtain all the money they need, if not all they want. The banks of Berkeley are in excellent condition, and the patrons are showing their unalterable faith in them by leaving them strictly alone. There is no flurry in business circles in the college town. Neither is there the slightest breath of suspicion but that either bank could pay dollar for dollar on every account in their books.

In speaking of the situation this morning George D. Baxter, president of the Berkeley National bank, said:

"Our Berkeley way business in commercial banking circles appears to be moving along in the usual sere and quiet way. We do not wish this to appear as a reflection upon the city of culture because she does not strike as rapid a pace as commercial Oakland. The banks are not observing the holiday proclamation, but are attending to business as usual, and their customers are being properly served."

PRESIDENT NAYLOR

President Naylor of the First National bank of Berkeley has the following to say:

"At a meeting of the Oakland Clearing House Association this morning the banks of Berkeley decided to act in accordance with the banks of Oakland and remain open for the transaction of business, notwithstanding the Governor's declaration of a legal holiday. The banks of Berkeley are in excellent condition. The action of the Governor, which is in accordance with the action taken by the Governors of several other States is primarily to safeguard the large cash reserves which are being carried by the banks.

"At this time of the year large cash balances are carried in New York by banks in the country district, the proceeds of crop and fruit sale. Until the arrival of the gold supply from Europe, which will materially aid in relieving the stringency, the California banks will not give their gold reserves away."

ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Oct. 31 — J. E. Baer, president of the Bank of Alameda and the Alameda Savings Bank, said today, in an interview:

"We are following the course taken by the Oakland banks. Everything is quiet and our business is going on as usual. We have drawn the blinds over our windows, but are transacting business as usual. We are paying out money, but limiting the amount of withdrawals to necessities only. There has been no unusual rush of business this morning, and everything seems quiet."

Samuel E. Biddle Jr., vice-president and manager of the Citizens' Bank of Alameda, said:

"The deposits this morning far exceed the withdrawals. I think that the scare is all over. We are doing business as usual and everything is proceeding quietly. It seems as if people are bringing money from other places to be deposited here, as our deposits this morning are unusually large."

FRUITVALE

FRUITVALE, Oct. 31 — L. R. Robertson, manager of the Citizens' Bank of Fruitvale said this morning: "All is quiet here and no scare has developed. We are transacting business as usual and I can see no difference in any way. Money is coming in and we are paying out as usual."

LEGAL HOLIDAY

Will Be Continued From Day to Day by Governor to Aid Interior Banks.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31.—Pursuant to the direct order of Governor Gillett today has been declared a legal holiday. It will be continued from day to day until the conditions brought about by the recent money flurry in the East is ended.

The proclamation and the reasons for it follow:

"Whereas, Unsettled financial conditions prevail in many of the States of this Union, and have extended to the State of California; and

"Whereas, It appears that balances due from banks of Eastern States are not being paid to the banks of this State; and

"Whereas, It further appears that this condition has resulted in a temporary lessening of the source of supply of money to meet the ordinary current payments due from California banks and that coupled thereto there has arisen an extraordinary condition due to the withdrawal of deposits from such banks; and

"Whereas, It appears that such withdrawal of deposits is not financial weakness of our local banks, but is induced through uneasiness caused by unsettled financial conditions elsewhere; and

"Whereas, It appears that such conditions have already resulted in the temporary embarrassment of one of our largest financial institutions, and unless restrained will be followed by the retirement from business of other banks and will most seriously affect the financial integrity of our State and entail enormous losses upon the depositors in such banks;

"Now, therefore in order that our financial integrity may be preserved, confidence regained, financial panic averted, and the depositors protected from the loss of their deposits, in whole or in part, I, J. N. Gillett, Governor of the State of California, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law do hereby appoint, designate and proclaim Thursday, the 31st day of October, 1907, as a public holiday."

CALIFORNIA BANKS MUST HOLD ON TO THEIR GOLD

Large Crop Balances of This State in the East---Eastern Banks Keep Back Their Cash.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. — All of the leading bankers in this city were apprised early yesterday of the condition of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company and expressed the opinion that its suspension would have no appreciable bad effect on the general banking situation for two reasons.

The first that the bank being an independent factor and had no local entanglements which could be of injury. The second reason is that the local banking world is sound with the institutions having plenty of money.

Homer S. King, president of the Bank of California and chairman of the San Francisco Clearing House Association, expressed the general opinion of the leading bankers on the failure when he said last evening:

NOT IN ASSOCIATION.

"The California Safe Deposit and Trust Company is not a member of the Clearing House Association, so its failure has nothing to do with the banks in the association. I do not pretend to speak for that bank, but will say that I think it did the wise thing temporarily to suspend in order to give fair treatment to all of its depositors. The local banking condition is not injuriously affected by the failure and will not be so affected."

BLAMES HEINZE.

The following statement was issued by George W. Peluer, president of the California Bankers' Association, last night:

"The beginning of the difficulties arose from the Heinze failure in New York city, resulting from Heinze's endeavor to corner United Copper stock, and being caught. Unfortunately, Heinze was a plunging banker, and three or four years ago he took over the control of a string of commercial banks in New York. In his endeavor to pull himself out of the copper corner he involved his own institutions. From his bank it went to the trust companies, in which some of his associates were interested. General distrust followed in New York, and it took the efforts of the greatest financiers to correct the situation. It, however, placed New York city on a clearing house payment basis, which means that the bankers of New York refused to ship money out of New York to other cities. This condition became acute and permeated Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake and even went as far South as New Orleans. In fact, every large city in the United States was forced to go on a clearing house basis, because the Eastern cities had refused to pay what they owed the Western bankers, following in sequence from one city to the other.

CALIFORNIA BALANCES.

"California, at this time of the year, has piled up large balances in the Eastern cities, by reason of having sold its crops, and having deposited money to the credit of the California bankers. Now it is obvious that, if the Eastern bankers are unable to ship coin to the California bankers, they, in turn, want to hold on to the gold they have, instead of shipping it out to other places.

"Legal holidays have been declared in Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Oklahoma. The action taken by declaring legal holidays is the only way to protect the banks and their patrons, as it will only be a short time before confidence will be restored in the East, which will immediately restore normal conditions here."

Lieutenant-Governor Warren S. Porter made the following statement last night:

"Governor Gillett will declare legal holidays from day to day until the conditions are such as will warrant him to discontinue the same. From the latest Eastern advices this condition will be of short duration. I came here to look into the situation, and have talked with a great many city and country bankers, and after having conferred with the clearing-house committee, the president of the California Bankers' Association and the Bank Commissioners, recommended to his excellency, the Governor, that holidays be declared."

PETITION GOVERNOR.

The following letters were sent to Governor Gillett by the California Bankers' Association and the San Francisco Clearing-house, asking that legal holidays be declared:

"SAN FRANCISCO, October 30, 1907.—To His Excellency, James N. Gillett, Sacramento—Sir: On account of the temporary unstable condition of finance throughout the United States and the refusal of Eastern banks to ship money to the Pacific Coast in payment of balances due California bankers for products that have been sold, and believing it to be to the interest of the California people and the financial integrity of the state, I do hereby recommend that you declare a legal holiday from day to day until such time in your judgment the financial affairs have returned to a normal basis. Respectfully,

"GEORGE W. PELTIER,
"President California Bankers' Association."

"SAN FRANCISCO, October 30, 1907.—His Excellency, James N. Gillett, Governor of the State of California: Whereas, strained financial conditions exist throughout the United States which have resulted in action on the part of the banks in clearing-house cities of the East having the effect of locking up the balances due to bankers and dealers of the State of California,

"Resolved, That for the protection of the business public and bankers of this State, it is in our judgment necessary that the Governor declare legal holidays until conditions become settled, and we therefore recommend to his honor, the Governor of California, that he declare holidays daily until, in his judgment, need for the same shall have passed.

"HOMER S. KING,
"President San Francisco Clearing-house."

THE COUNTRY BANKS.

The move to secure a succession of legal holidays, it was learned, was instigated by the country banks. The city banks, it was explained last evening, were not anxious for legal holidays, but agreed to the suggestion in the interest of the public good.

Judge Charles W. Slack said that the declaration of a legal holiday does not necessarily preclude all transactions. A banker may receive and pay money in urgent cases if so disposed, and those acts are perfectly legal; but notes cannot be protested or action instituted in court during a legal holiday.

SPOKANE BANKS EASY.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 31.—The banking situation here is improved somewhat today. The banks are letting go today a little more money and the Clearing House checks are not being insisted upon as strongly as yesterday. The local bankers say they have now reached a position, which they can defy any run on any one with money who needs it. They claim this is not caused by the receipt of money, but is for the reason that all the business men have united to do practically all business on the Clearing House system, which has relieved the money market. Two or three banks are paying all their own checks in cash, while all are paying out some money.

FOLLOWED OLD BANK METHODS

J. Dalzell Brown Says His Bank's Suspension Means No Loss to Any One.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—In further discussing the temporary suspension of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company yesterday, J. Dalzell Brown, vice-president and general manager, said last night:

"There was no reason for not joining the clearing house. We were simply following the general custom both here and in the East for a trust company to clear through some one bank instead of joining the clearing house. Of course, when the banks in the clearing house for the first time in the history of this city decided on a clearing house certificate basis in order to protect their available money from outside drains, it placed our institution at a disadvantage. Not having the protection of these certificates, people called on us for coin and currency.

BLAMES CONDITIONS.

"No bank under the new conditions could stand such a strain, so we thought best temporarily to suspend for the protection of all depositors. Nobody is going to lose a cent by this suspension. We have ample resources and securities and will adjust matters as speedily as possible."

Among the depositors of the bank in its commercial branch is the Western Pacific Railroad, the new overland line George J. Gould is constructing between this city and Salt Lake.

Mr. Brown is the treasurer of the Western Pacific and one of the bank's directors. W. J. Barnett is vice-president and general attorney for the same road. The bank is one of forty banking institutions in the country which now have on deposit an aggregate of $15,000,000 of Western Pacific coin which it is drawing upon for construction expenses. The California Safe Deposit and Trust Company has carried proportionately a great deal of the railroad money, but just at present, according to Mr. Brown, did not have much of that money on hand.

GOULD'S ASSOCIATES.

It was Brown, Barnett and John Treadwell another director of the bank, who made Gould's branch in Western Pacific a reality. They bought up valuable rights of way, realty and other property out here suitable for a competing line against the Southern Pacific and got Gould to take hold of them as part of an extension of his Missouri Pacific and Rio Grande systems to tidewater at San Francisco. This is why they are officials of the Western Pacific and why they have been new and active factors in the railroad world on this coast for several years.

They are credited with having made a goodly profit on selling terminal and strategic rights of way to the Western Pacific, and on this account the report is not credited by people in banking and railroad circles that perhaps the bank's suspension has been due to speculations affecting the Western Pacific properties.

DENIES SPECULATION.

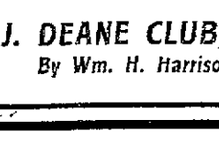

Mr. Brown emphatically denies the truth of such report. As to a report current last evening that he hoped for an early resumption of the bank from assistance from Gould contributions in the East, he said he could not state from what source he expected financial aid. All questions of that character, he said, he must refuse either to affirm or deny for obvious reasons.

Mr. Barnett is now in New York and is fully conversant with the predicament of the bank.

YOUTHFUL RUNAWAYS ARE TAKEN TO JAIL

Two distinctive runaways were picked up by the police last evening. John Whittson, aged 8 years, had made his escape from the Fred Finch Orphanage yesterday and was enjoying the freedom of the city when Officer Fahy espied him in West Oakland, and very inconsiderately notified the Orphanage authorities of his whereabouts. He was returned to the home last night. Joseph Lewis, aged 10 years, was picked up soon afterward by the same officer and is being held at the City Prison until his parents are heard from.

HENEY--HELLO! WHAT? SPRECKELS---TELL 'EM YOU'LL HAVE ALL INDICTED IF THEY DON'T VOTE FOR LANGDON.

GAMBLING HOUSES ARE BEING RUN WIDE OPEN

Every Effort Is Being Made to Switch the Tenderloin Vote to Taylor and Langdon.

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 31—In its campaign to elect Taylor and its hybrid fusion ticket the Good Government League has reached the stage where explanations are demanded and must be made It is an extremely dangerous period in the canvass for any of the leaders to scan and clear away doubts that have arisen in the minds of voters but the situation must be met and the managers of the league are confessedly short on ammunition

One of the mainstays of the Taylor crusade is the promise that the moral atmosphere of the town under the administration of the venerable Judge Lawlor is to be or will be loosed to the satisfaction of the most exacting Dr Taylor gave assurances several weeks ago that the fumigation process would begin at once His managers for reasons perfectly obvious are declaring that there was a slight misunderstanding in connection with the matter and that the municipal cyclone of crime is not to be used until after next Tuesday

The result is an extremely embarrassing conflict between promise and performance Decent citizens are asking for example why it is that the town is more open now than it has been for a year Crap games are running openly and notoriously on Fillmore street The police understand the situation and ignore it The games are being conducted as if they were under the special patronage of the authorities

GAME AFTER GAME

Game after game in the uptown district is open to the public Solicitation for patronage is shameless and the reason given is in the whispered murmur of disgust The town is to remain open until Taylor and League have returned to office Orders to this effect have gone forth all the gamblers are making the most of a time of harvest

Never in all the history of the Schmitz regime was immunity so completely given to the men who live on the excesses of the night life When Taylor as crap game with fifteen tables was in full operation on the corner of Golden Gate avenue and Fillmore street the introduction of Biggy into officialdom and the glowing promises of Taylor struck fear into the hearts of the gamblers

The proprietor of the establishment at Golden Gate avenue and Fillmore street saw breakers ahead and with what he believed to be extraordinary foresight sold his place to a ready purchaser The latter happened to have a ship on the purposes of the emergency administration He has made a great sum of money in his illicit traffic He is assured of immunity until after next Tuesday

FRESH IN MEMORY

It is still fresh in the memory of observing citizens that District Attorney Langdon recently took great pleasure in raiding gambling dens in San Francisco There are many more now in operation but he does not intend to disturb them As a matter of political policy he dare not The gamblers are calling him a "good fellow who is not nearly as implacable in the pursuit of either crime or criminals as some people imagine Even the fellow who sold his crap game at Golden Gate avenue and Fillmore street has opened another only a block away and is harvesting a rich nightly gain

One of the most significant instances of the startling change of front made by Langdon and his principals in the graft prosecution was the protest that was made the parasitic class against the activities of Biggy The night sharks of the tenderloin complained bitterly that Biggy was driving a great many easy dollars out of San Francisco into Oakland, where it was represented the kid is not only off but apparently has been lost.

BIGGY BOTTLED

The howl of the unspeakables had the wished for effect Biggy was bottled and the upper and lower tenderloins of the town are again in full blast. The residence districts are again invaded by un-

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, says a well known authority Every man woman and child here should dress as warmly as possible and above all else keep the feet dry Avoid colds and exposure and don't become constipated

Rheumatism is strictly a blood disease caused by inactive kidneys which through cold or exposure or improper diet fail in their duty of filtering the rheumatic poisons from the blood This poisonous waste matter uric acid exhilirate of the urea etc if not strained from the blood promptly decomposes and settle about the joints and muscles causing rheumatic disease

In damp or chilly cold weather the kidneys are made to do double work The pores of the skin all over the body do not assist in eliminating the poisons of the body throwing this work to the kidneys which become clogged and feeble thus causing not only rheumatism but all forms of kidney troubles backache weak bladder and urinary troubles and sometimes terrible blood disorders

At the first sign of any of these troubles the following simple prescription should be mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime Fluid Extract Dandelion one half ounce Compound Kargon one ounce Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces

Any good pharmacy can supply these ingredients and all the mixing required is to shake well in a bottle

MANY PERSONS HEAR SERMONS

Mission of St Mary's Church is Meeting With Appreciation and Success.

The mission of St Mary's Church Eighth and Jefferson streets gives signs of appreciation and success by reason of the attendance and the eagerness of the devout worshippers It is evident to the casual observer that the people are deeply interested The spacious church was thronged last evening to hear the eloquent discourse of Father O Malley S J He said in part

The mission is a time of recollection prayer and examination We as it were go over the book of life closely scrutinize our actions probe to the hidden sources of thought and word cast up our accounts and calmly consider our profit and loss For the time being we may pass over the consideration of our profits Our goodly or virtuous deeds are seldom an object of deep concern The objects in the second column namely our losses are serious and must at our peril engage our attention if they do not engross our minds

In our quiet moments these losses pass across our fitful vision and make us restless and uneasy In the study of human life we find one terrible element of disturbance namely sin It is so widespread so common so paramount in this world that its dominating influence is advanced as an excuse or a plea for its justification Many seem to have lost a horror of it no fear is excited by rehearsing the story of its baneful effects no uneasiness awakened by parading its villany It is glossed over by the easy statement that every one commits sin and even many sins so that it is relegated to the class of necessary events It would be a subject of little or no consequence if it could be so plausibly and readily settled

We know on the warrant of master minds that sin is a willful violation of the law of God in thought word or omission We not only claim but pride ourselves on the fact that we are all law abiding citizens The slogan abroad in the world is let the law be fairly administered We stand by its injunctions we sanction its requirements we endorse its postulates We would rebuke any one who would dare insinuate that we are violators of the law We respect the laws of the municipality we bow before the acts of the state or nation but we have a scant regard for the sacred laws of God

The will of one or many in the capacity of legislators is an object of respect and reverence but the holy will of God is a negligable quantity Yet the will of God must stand and prevail human lives no matter what may betide His law which is only the promulgations of His will is proclaimed in every rational mind and its binding force can not be ignored Every rational mind independent of its religious tenets or professions of belief is bound in conscience to keep the law of God That law was proclaimed in terror amid the flash of lightning and the peal of thunder to the Israelites when the tablets of stone were given to Moses on Mt Sinai Their binding force was not abated nor been untried by the stress and strain of twenty centuries of activity

While the will of God stands full revealed yet there is another factor which must always be considered viz the free will of man That is the noblest proudest asset of man His greatest glory if used rightly and his greatest shame if put to an ignoble use God will not coerce the will of man He inspires it but withal leaves it free to act It is a base use of a noble activity God's wonderful gift to man is feels and deliberately used not in some trifling or insignificant way but in some act on which God has set His ban and which He reprobates with all the power of His being Sin offers a gross insult to God the creature rises in rebellion against His creator The servant serves notice on the best of masters that he will not serve him The slightest reflection gives us an insight into the disgusting degradation and baseness of sin

THIS EVENING

The sermon this evening will be preached by the Rev Thomas McKeogh S J The mission for the women will close on Saturday night and on Sunday the week for the men will commence at the seven o'clock mass Special music has been arranged for that mass The music will include selections from Van Blees First Mass The soloists will be Mrs Barlow Miss Wilkie Mr Bieberling and Prof Sindt The prelude and postlude will be from Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise The offertory will be Gounod's Ave Verum

At the evening service Miss Mabel Wright will sing Nicolai's Ave Maria The O Salutaris will be by Mundel and the Tantum Ergo by Adolf Gregory

All men are welcome to the men's mission especially at the evening services which will consist of devotions and a sermon on the great truths of life by one of the missionaries

STATE BANKS SOUND

Latest Advices Show Firmness Everywhere in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Advices from all of the principal points in California report the banks open and doing a normal business.

About $1,000,000 has been deposited by New York banks today on account of balances due San Francisco banks, and the telegraphic transfer of these deposits through the sub-treasury here has served to lessen the strain.

PRESIDENT HELLMAN

President J. W. Hellman, of the Wells Fargo-Nevada National Bank and the Union Trust Company, today repeated the statement made by him last night that any sound San Francisco bank, which has been doing a legitimate banking business, will receive whatever assistance may be required whether or not it holds membership in the Clearing House.

BANKS NORMAL

President E. B. Bond, of the San Francisco Savings Union,

"The Savings banks are weathering the squall in excellent shape. I have not heard of one needing assistance thus far. They are all doing a practically normal business today. While the institution of legal holidays by the Governor was welcome here as well as elsewhere, the San Francisco banks would have gotten along first rate without it. Though the Governor acted at the suggestion of San Francisco bankers, they on their part, acted really in the interests of the country banks, which were naturally less prepared to withstand sudden pressure than the larger institutions of the city. The Savings banks today are allowing depositor to check out, but are exercising a wide discretion as to size of amounts withdrawn. Withdrawal of sums ranging from $1000 to $5000, is not permitted without notice of from one week to thirty days."

President Rudolph Spreckels of the First National bank, said:

"The San Francisco banks are in sound condition and will come out of this disturbed period all right. I have no idea how long the necessity for legal holidays will continue. I have heard of no local bank other than the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company that is in the least shaky. Banking business appears about normal today."

HOMER S. KING.

"There is no appreciable change in the situation this morning," said Homer S. King, president of the Bank of California and Clearing House Association. "Everything looks all right. I do not even know that there will be a meeting today of the Clearing House directors."

Herbert Fleishhacker, manager of the London, Paris and American Bank, who yesterday took the initiative in recommending the institution of legal holidays, vouched for the accuracy of the statement that this action was in behalf of the country banks of the State rather than to protect the San Francisco banks. "We are doing our usual amount of business," he said, "and I see no cause for alarm."

SUB-TREASURY.

Thomas J. Burns, cashier of the Sub-Treasury, said he had been advised by the sub-treasury at New York of the deposit there of approximately $1,000,000 by New York banks to the credit of balances due an San Francisco banks. He was paying out this money on telegraphic transfers. He said he was informed that the Secretary of the Treasury has under consideration the question of permitting the sub-treasury here to make loans on United States bonds held by the various banks. Thirteen million dollars worth of these bonds are held by the Hibernia Bank alone. If the government will accept such security for temporary loans, the situation here can be promptly relieved.

AMERICAN BANK

The officials of the American National Bank said that all of the clearing-house banks were going ahead with business in the usual way with one principal distinction. They were cashing no checks drawn on out-of-town banks. The explanation of this was that the country banks are temporarily dormant and without funds to credit balances due.

Lines of withdrawing depositors at 2 or 3 of the principal down town banks were accounted for by the fact that today is the last day of the month and employers are making up the October payrolls.

President Kirk this afternoon informed the Associated Press that no meeting of the directors of the Clearing House Association would be held today. "There is no occasion for such a meeting," he said. "Everything is running smoothly."

J. DAZELL BROWN.

Manager J. Dazell Brown of the suspended California Safe Deposit and Trust Company said it noon today that there was absolutely no change to report in the affairs of that institution. He did not think the bank commissioners would finish their inspection of the bank's liabilities and assets earlier than tomorrow.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Hayes and Director North of the Census Bureau, regarding the first meeting of the International Institution of Agriculture to be held in Rome next spring. The institute which is the conception of Lubin has been placed on a permanent foundation by treaty between nations.

STICKS HEAD OUT OF CAR WINDOW; IS HURT

James Peterson, a cement worker, living at 126 Laurel street, will not stick his head out of a car window in a hurry. He felt an impulse to look out of a northbound car, upon which he was riding last night, and at the same time a southbound car passed and collided with Petersen's head. This was at Thirteenth street and Broadway. As a result Petersen's face was badly cut and he had to be taken to the Receiving Hospital, where he was attended by Steward Borchert. Spectators of the accident say that Petersen was fortunate to escape with his life.

SEEKS POLICE PROTECTION

Woman With Face Cut and Bruised Begs Husband be Arrested.

Begging that a policeman be sent to arrest her husband, Christopher Feagan, as he stepped from the train upon his return from work tonight, Mrs. Regina Feagan of 933 Adeline street, her face bruised and cut by blows which she declares her spouse rained upon her last night, applied to the police for protection this morning.

The story told by Mrs. Feagan was one of brutality and cruel abuse. For a long time, she declared, her husband has been mistreating her, and last night the trouble came to a climax when, after a tirade of abuse, he struck her several times.

CALLS POLICEMAN.

Stunned by the blows, she fled to the sidewalk and called in a policeman. Unwilling to cause her husband's arrest she merely asked the officer to remonstrate with him for his actions. She alleged her husband cowered before the officer's words and promised to refrain from striking her again. As soon as the policeman left, however, Mrs. Feagan declares that her husband attacked her furiously, and after beating her, threw her from the room.

WITH FRIEND.

Unable to come to the police headquarters in her weakened condition, she spent the night at the house of a friend. She did not report the mater until today. Upon the advice of the prosecuting attorney she swore out a warrant charging her husband with battery. She expressed the fear that he would renew his attack upon her when he returned from his work in San Francisco tonight, and asked that he be taken into custody as he leaves the train.

HOLIDAY CAUSES JUDGE TO SUSPEND SCULLY TRIAL

Court Holds He Has No Jurisdiction Under Law, and Jury Is Excused---Police Courts Tied Up.

Judge Ellsworth held but a brief session this morning in his court, where Olve Scully is on trial for her life for the murder of Deputy County Clerk James F. Glover.

After the jury was called the members were informed by Judge Ellsworth that it was out of his jurisdiction to try this or any other case until the legal holidays had been declared off. He said.

"The last session of the Legislature sets the matter beyond doubt. The statute provides that all cases be continued in the course of law until the next judiciary day. How long a time will elapse before we go on we do not know. I make the order that the case be continued for trial until the next judiciary day."

JURY EXCUSED

The jury was then excused and the jurors warned to be on hand as soon as the legal holidays were declared to be at an end. District Attorney Brown states that he intends before he is through with the cross-examination of the defendant, now on the stand, to prove her one of the smoothest criminals of the age. He states that it is owing to her cleverness that she has escaped punishment. When Dr. Robertson, the alienist, takes the stand efforts will be made to show that she is a criminal by instinct and thoroughly depraved.

Olive Scully sat in the courtroom from 10 o'clock until 11:20 talking to her two sisters and her mother. In stately repose by her side was Matron Hattie White, who is in charge of the prisoner.

POLICE COURTS SUSPEND.

Owing to the fact that today is a legal holiday, the Police Judges were also unable to try any of the petty offenders who were brought into the docks this morning. All of the misdemeanor charges on the calendars went over and the prisoners were remanded to their cells to await a hearing. The new amendments to the sections of the code of civil procedure relating to judicial days, which were approved by the Legislature last March, read as follows:

No court, other than the Supreme Court, must be open for the transaction of judicial business on any of the holidays mentioned in Section 10, except for the following purposes:

1—To give, upon their request, instructions to jury when deliberating upon their verdict.

2—To receive a verdict or discharge a jury.

3—For the exercise of the powers of a magistrate in a criminal action, or in a proceeding of a criminal nature.

Injunctions and writs of prohibition may be issued and served on any day.

If any day mentioned in Section 10, of the Civil Code, be a day appointed for the holding or sitting of any court, other than the Supreme Court, it is deemed adjourned to the next succeeding judicial day.

Section 10 of the code of civil procedure, fixing and defining legal holidays, reads as follows:

MAY RELEASE OFFENDERS.

Holidays within the meaning of this code are every Sunday, the first day of January, the 22d day of February, the 30th day of May, the 4th day of July, the 9th day of September, the first Monday in September, the 25th of December every day on which an election is held throughout the State, and every day appointed by the President of the nited States, or by the Governor of this State, for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday. If any of the holidays defined fall upon a Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday.

It will be seen that the law prohibits a police judge from sitting on a legal holiday, except as a committing magistrate. Warrants and other processes may be issued and the preliminary hearings of felony cases may be held as usual in the police courts, but misdemeanor charges must go over until a regular business day. In the event that Governor Gillette declares four or five legal holidays in succession during the present period of financial stress the local police judges, in order to prevent the city prison from becoming overcrowded with prisoners, will probably release a number of the petty offenders on their own recognizance to appear when the regular business of the courts can be resumed.

TO INVESTIGATE CANAL DEEDS

House Committee on Appropriations to Inquire Into Panama Monetary Requirements.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Representative James A. Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the committee of appropriations of the House of Representatives, will leave New York today on the steamer Colon for the isthmus to make personal inquiry into the present and prospective monetary needs of the Panama canal. Tawney will be accompanied by these members of the committee:

General H. H. Bingham of Pennsylvania, Washington Gardiner of Michigan, Walter I. Smith of Iowa, Joseph Graff of Illinois, Martin B. Madden of Illinois, General W. Warren Kelfer of Ohio, L. F. Livingston of Georgia, Albert S. Burleson of Texas, J. W. Brundige of Arkansas and George W. Taylor of Alabama.

"We are making the trip," said Mr. Tawney today, "mainly because the Isthmian Canal Commission has asked for an appropriation of $42,000,000, with which to continue its work for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1908.

LARGE SUMS SPENT.

"Congress fixed arbitrarily the cost of the canal at $138,000,000. Thus far Congress has authorized the issuance of canal bonds to the extent of $77,000,000. If we find that the estimate of $32,000,000 made by the commission for continuing the work of construction through the next fiscal year is correct we shall unhesitatingly grant it. If we grant that sum then the actual cost of the canal to the first of July, 1909, will be $106,000,000, or $33,000,000 short of the original cost of construction, exclusive of the $40,000,000 we paid to the new Panama Canal Company for its property and franchise rights and $10,000,000 to the republic of Colombia for our franchise.

"At the present rate of construction the work ought to be completed by January 1, 1914, but in order to be on the safe side I will give a year's leeway and fix the date of completion at the first of January 1915. I also estimate that the total cost of construction will be not less than $250,000,000, thus making the canal cost us in actual cash $300,000,000."

SAYS PRISONERS' CAGE UNFIT FOR JUVENILES

No more gazing at the prisoners' cage in the Oakland city juvenile court, Judge Samuels, at the hearing of eight juvenile cases yesterday afternoon ordered chairs brought into the judge's chambers and there held court. Judge Samuels afterward made the statement that the regular police courtroom is no fit place for a children's court to meet, that its terrors and disgrace should be reserved for offenders who are their own guardians.

The case of Fred Grimm, the juvenile chicken thief and runaway, who had again run away during the continuance of his case, had been captured and had been sent by Judge McVin of the Superior Juvenile Court to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, was dropped from the calendar. Two amateur petit larcenists, who brought poor school reports, were given a month in which to bring better reports of be certified to the Superior Juvenile Court for more severe treatment.

Special juvenile court record books for the judge and his clerk have been ordered, and next week, with "Juvenile Court" printed on the door and with all paraphernalia, the Oakland juvenile court will sold sway.

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS TO HAVE LARGER GUNS

LONDON, Oct. 31. — It was rumored here recently that the British battleships of the Dreadnaught type were to have 13.5 inch instead of 12 inch guns. It was known here that such guns were being constructed. It now appears, however, that they are for the two Brazilian battleships, the orders for which have been placed with the Armstrongs. These gigantic guns will be mounted on special barbettes and so arranged that they will be able to concentrate their fire on either broad side. It is declared that the piercing power of the shells thrown by these guns will be greater than that of any others now in use.

INDORSE IMPROVEMENT OAKLAND WATER FRONT

At the meeting of the North Adeline Improvement Club last evening held at 63e Sixty-second street. An election was held and the following officers were elected: H. P. Harrington, president; James Peacock, first vice-president; R. H. Conrad, second vice-president; H. D. Henry, secretary; R. V. Mahoney, treasurer; and N. Shelley, sergeant-at-arms. The club received a copy of resolutions prepared by the Harbor League, in reference to its attitude towards the improvement of Oakland's water front, and these were endorsed by the organization. An informal discussion of the advisability of petitioning of the opening of Wheeler street was had, but no definite action was taken. About 150 mebers were present.

PETTY THEFTS ARE REPORTED TO POLICE

James A. Fenton, of 898 Pine street, has reported to the police that his house was entered on Tuesday night through a side window. A suit case and a number of articles of clothing were taken.

PURSE STOLEN.

Miss Marie Andre, of 488 Sherman street, reports the loss of a purse containing $21 and a pen knife in the Seventh street Southern Pacific depot yesterday. Miss Andre had laid the purse down for a moment and when she turned to pick it up it was gone.

MINISTER ROBBED.

The Rev. Charles Hitchcock, of the San Mateo Military Academy, reports the loss of a gold watch and gold chain, with gold match box and cross attached, while he was on his way to this city yesterday.

MODERN WOODMEN.

The Modern Woodmen of America are just now manifesting an activity that promises much for this oldest local camp of America's greatest fraternal order. There are two distinct sides to this activity, the social, on the one hand, and the increase of membership on the other. Head Consul Talbot, who, as the leader of one million Woodmen, is rather more than a notable American, will be at San Francisco on the evening of November 9 to receive a class of several hundred new members, of which perhaps forty will come from the Golden Gate Camp. This will probably not be a fourth of the membership gained for the camp during the season.

In social activity a good old-fashioned all-hands-around dance to the tune of "Money Musk," and the other old-time melodies will take place in the near future. The Royal Neighbors have joined with the Woodmen to make this affair a great success. Other plans for the camp's enjoyment and well being are in the making, with the attendant result of an increased interest by the entire membership.

PLANS TO OUST CORPORATIONS

Louisiana Lieutenant Governor Springs Surprise During Absence of Governor.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 31—The passage in Louisiana of a law similar to those recently enacted or proposed in other Southern States, for the regulation of corporations was today presented before the coming of the extra session of the State Assembly by the proclamation of Lieutenant Governor Sanders.

The ousting from the State of corporations by State law is one of the measures suggested. Others include investigation and regulation of telephone, telegraph, railroad and express business. The extra session meets tomorrow. The fact that the Lieutenant Governor's proclamation is issued during the absence of Governor Blanchard, only four days after the latter's unexpected call for an extra session created unusual interest.

Lieutenant Governor Sanders is one of the candidates for the nomination for Governor in the approaching Democratic State primary election. Governor Blanchard's call was issued last Saturday night, soon after he left for the Jamestown Exposition.

Governor Blanchard's call laid before the assembly as being important an investigation of New Orleans port conditions and reductions in the State tax department. The telephone investigation has already been started independently by several large commercial bodies.

YOUTH IS ARRESTED ON LARCENY CHARGE

Thomas Richards, a 16-year-old boy was arraigned in the Police Court this morning on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Matts Sveins. The offense charged took place on May 23rd last, when Sveins alleges that the boy stole a leather money sack, containing $100 from him. The theft was reported at the time, but the boy had left the city, and he was not arrested until Tuesday, when he reappeared in Oakland. The hearing was set for November 6th.

Sam Wentworth and Leo Londreville, two 17-year-old boys, were in the Police Court this morning, charged with attempting to defraud J. Pantoskey, proprietor of a lodging house at Fifth and Washington streets. According to Pantoskey the boys rented a room from him and then attempted to leave without settling the bill. The hearing went over until tomorrow.

MAKES FIGHT UNDER WATER

Falls in Net With Monster Sea Lion and Nearly Killed.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

MONTEREY, Oct 31.—Captain William Nicholls, of the Booth cannery fleet, yesterday fought for his life in the confines of a net with a great shaggy-maned sea lion, which tore all the clothes from his body and roared and barked over him, knocking him about and nearly killing him. J. Hoyden, manager of the Booth canneries, who was with Captain Nicholls at the time, finally landed a blow on the mammal' head, which stopped the fight.

Nicholls and Hoyden had run a launch near Moss Landing, where nets were lowered. No sooner had the nets been set than it was discovered that a big sea lion had been captured. At first the party thought of trying to take the mammal alive, but unfortunately there was no rope or hooks on board, so they decided to kill it. In order to accomplish this it was necessary to draw the net alongside the launch.

LOSES BALANCE.

When the sea lion was a few feet away, splashing and squirming in the net, Hoyden struck it a heavy blow with an oar, but without effect, so Captain Nicholls picked up a heavy hammer and leaning over the side of the launch attempted to hit the animal over the head. The force of the blow caused him to lose his equilibrium and he fell overboard with a splash. The monster was on him in an instant and a battle royal ensued between lion and man, in which the clothes were torn completely off the captain's back.

Hoyden made frantic efforts to save his friend and after many attempts he finally killed the animal with a terrific blow on the head with a small sledge hammer. Nicholls was then puled from the water more dead than alive, without a single garment left on his torn and bleeding body. He was wrapped in blankets and brought to this city. The sea lion measures a little over eight feet in length.

ACCUSES PARTNER OF BURGARLIZING HOME

On complaint of James Porassas of last night arrested John Kotis and Nick Krusti, whom Porassas accuses of burglarizing his house. All the parties concerned are Greeks. It developed that Kotes and Krusti had been in partnership with Porassas and recently they decided to move away from his home. They took a gas stove, off and other things and set up housekeeping in their new apartments.

The men deny Porassas' accusation and say that they were entitled to the articles they took. Captain of Detectives Peterson is inclined to believe the prisoner's story and they will probably be released.

EXPLOSION IS MYSTERIOUS

Berkeley Man Victim of Strange Happening in Basement of Residence.

BERKELEY, Oct. 31.—S. P. Harris, an employe of the Varsity Creamery, was severely burned in a mysterious basement explosion, which occurred yesterday morning in the home of B. R. Sherman, 2304 Blake street, with whom the young man lived.

Harris entered the basement at 6:30 in the morning. It was dark and in the furthest corner, he noticed a gleam, as if something burning. He started in the direction of the blaze and when within a few feet of the mysterious fire, an explosion occurred, which shook the house and scattered flames in all directions.

Harris was badly burned and his eye-brows and hair were singed. For a time it was feared he would lose his eyesight. Dr. Woolsey was summoned and attended the injured man. Harris is at a loss to explain the cause of the explosion, as no one knows of having left any explosives in the basement.

MASKED BALL AT ARMORY HALL IS WELL ATTENDED

The masquerade ball given by Professor R. E. Stewart last night in Armory Hall, 458 Twentieth street, was attended by more than one hundred and fifty couples. The McNamara orchestra furnished music. The special prizes were won by Miss Hallahan, Miss Pearl Lawton, Robert Channing and James Sidlow. The prizes were a silver jewel box, a silver brush, a silver hairpin holder and a silver pin cushion.

Many dainty and fantastic costumes were worn by the dancers. The ballroom was tastefully decorated with Chinese lanterns and national flags.

Another elaborate masquerade ball, offering prizes to those having the most original and attractive costumes, will be given November 22 in the Armory Hall. Professor Stewart has also arranged for a prize social dance next Saturday night at the same place.

NO TRACE OF TURKEY BROKER EVER FOUND

Inquiry was made of the local police yesterday about J. J. Flint, formerly a commission merchant in this city, who disappeared a year ago after selling about $700 worth of turkeys shipped to him from farmers in Merced and other counties in the San Joaquin valley. The shippers accused Flint of absconding with the money he obtained from the sale.

No trace of the missing broker has been obtained by the local police, although descriptive circulars have been sent to the police in every city in the PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 31.—The Evening Telegram will say today that all work on the Northern Bank road, except that portion of the Hill road between Vancouver, Washington, and Pasco, will stop almost immediately. The Vancouver-Pasco road is almost completed and work will be rushed on that division, but work on all laterals will stop. This will throw several thousand men out of employment. This news is not official but comes from a source that cannot be doubted.

This action of the Hill interests follows the announcement yesterday that all construction work on various Harriman extensions and improvements in this State will be suspended at once.

ARRESTED AS ROBBER WHILE AIDING FRIEND

Believing that William Wheeler, whom he saw bending over the prostrate form of a man on Seventh street, near Clay, early yesterday morning, was attempting to commit robber, Policeman Feely ran to the scene and shouted to Wheeler that he was under arrest. Wheeler, who in reality had only been attempting to help an intoxicated companion to his feet, took to his heels, thereby strengthening the policeman's belief that he had been bent on robbery. The officer took up the pursuit and fired two shots into the air. This brought the fugitive to a sudden halt. Wheeler was taken to the city prison, where his protestations of innocence were corroborated by his somewhat befuddled friend. Wheeler was held at the city prison until his companion could be sobered up.

PICKPOCKETS TAKE ONLY VALUABLE JEWELS

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—The pickpockets who have been operating on the local street cars of late seem to be careful to select expensive jewels for their booty. Tuesday the light-fingered gentry secured a $900 diamon pin and yesterday Mrs. A. Bering of 851 Cole street lost a gunburst pin with a three-quarter carat diamond, valued at $125, while riding on either the Fillmore or the Haight street car line.

Bertram Schaffer of 118 Liberty street reported to the detective department this morning that someone had stolen his gold watch with Odd Fellows and Masonic emblems attached while he was riding to work on a Guerrero street car at 7

RYAN DECLARES HE IS FRIEND OF WORKERS

LABOR MEN GREET REPUBLICAN WITH CHEERS AND APPLAUD HIS EVERY WORD

Heart to Heart Talk With Workingmen Results in Gaining of Many Votes—Enemies of Candidate Are Rebuffed by His Popularity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Dan Ryan last night climbed Bernal Heights, and addressed a wonderful gathering in Wackenrudel's Hall. There, in the presence of none but laboring men, he spoke from the heart against what he termed the injustice of the position into which his enemies had sought to place him. Coming, as he said, from the laboring classes, born and raised as a poor man among poor men, he thought himself entitled to consideration from the men of his early association, and he failed to understand why the men of the laboring classes should decline to accept him as an equal champion of their rights and liberties with the man whose name appears at the head of the Union Labor party ticket.

"Only elect me," said Ryan, "and the story will go out to the East that good government has been re-established in San Francisco."

Then he went on to tell how only a few months ago his assistance was invited in the cause of good government at the primary election and how after a bitter struggle he earned a triumphant victory at the polls, completely defeating the Herrin combination and other influences calculated to obstruct the progress of good government.

And yet, he pointed out, the only fruit that came to him from that victory took the form of abuse.

RYAN WILL FIGHT.

"Why I was the white-haired boy," said Ryan last night, "and there was a little halo over my head and I seemed to feel the wings sprouting from me. Pray, what have I done that all should be changed? All I know is that my wings have fallen off. There is no more grace in me. But I don't care. I'll fight the battle to the end in the cause of what I conceive to be even-handed justice. And I won't lay down my arms, for I know that my cause is just, and that my election will mean nothing but benefit to the citizens of San Francisco.

"There is but one campaign cry that my enemies have dug up to use against me. It is the cry of finance, of credit for San Francisco. There is no reason, no sanity in that cry. The credit of San Francisco is boundless. You all know what happened in the East a few days ago and you realize now that the financial standing of this, our fair city, is strong indeed in comparison with that of the East. Why, then, should we take notice of any such calamitous howl?

CROWD ENTHUSIASTIC.

Ryan was enthusiastically received. Everybody there seemed inclined to greet him as a friend and to promise him support. Leaving the Mission, he went with all speed to 702 Van Ness avenue, where he addressed a very large audience. It was a Ryan day from start to finish.

District Attorney Langdon also spoke with excellent effect. In part he said:

"There are men in this community I know who are conscientious in their fellowship of false leaders. The prejudice of friendship, of business associates or of class feeling obscures their perception of the thing that is at stake.

"On the other hand, there are men who are against us because of some personal prejudice against the prosecution. Prosecution is made up of more than the men who are commissioned with its work; it is made up mainly of a public cause. We may not have done everything exactly to suit your personal desires, but we have done the main thing—we have attacked the institution of crime in government. We may not have gotten all the criminals you may have wished, but we are trying to get as many as the energy at our command and the expediency of the case will permit.

"If you cannot see the issues between government and the enemies of government, it is because you are swayed by prejudice. If you are bitter against us it is because you are drunk with personal or partisan feeling. If you have already judged that you will vote against this prosecution upon election day, we say now, like the wrongly judged woman who stood before the drunken Philip of Macedon, 'We appeal.' 'To whom?' you say. 'We appeal from Philip drunk to Philip sober.'"

FAIR-PLAY PLATFORM.

During the noon hour yesterday Dan Ryan visited the North End, and held an open-air meeting at the corner of Powell and Bay streets. A large crowd gathered there, and there was a ring of real enthusiasm accorded the candidate. In the course of his address to the throng, Ryan said.

"You want fair play and a square deal, don't you? You know what it is to have one of you among you; one who has been brought up in the ranks of labor, and has earned and is earning his daily bread. Now, I am born of labor union parentage, and the only reason I am not a union labor man today is that there is no union for lawyers. But for all that, I am just as much a union man as you yourselves are. I stand for better wages, better hours, and everything that makes for the betterment of the workingman's condition."

The crowd liked the plain, earnest, open talk, and applauded heartily. After the meeting a little knot of workingmen gathered in a corner and started in to discuss the situation. One asked:

"What do you think of him, Ryan?"

"Why, Danny's all right," roared a chorus of voices. "He's all right and he always was all right."

M'CARTHY SAYS FIGHT IS WON

Labor Nominee Flays Opponents and Replies to Charge of Furuseth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. — P. H. McCarthy, Union Labor party candidate for mayor, flayed Andrew Furuseth, Michael Casey and other labor leaders who are supporting Dr. Taylor and paid his respects to the so-called Good Government Building Trades Club which he said was composed of just thirteen members.

McCarthy accused them of working in the interest of the multi-millionaires and the Citizens' Alliance to destroy unionism in this city. His attack on Casey, Furuseth, Macarthur, and other supporters of Dr. Taylor was made at a meeting held last night at Maennerbund Hall, Twenty-fourth street and Potrero avenue.

"FIGHT IS WON."

Frank McGowan, Sheriff O'Neill, Recorder Nelson, Charles A. Bantel, Coroner Walsh, County Clerk Mulcrevy and other candidates also spoke. P. H. McCarthy said in part:

"This fight is won. It is now a question of what my majority will be. The people throughout this city are so thoroughly aroused that no power on earth exercised by the Citizens' Alliance of this city can stem the tide from the Union Labor ticket. Messrs. Spreckels, Phelan, De Young and company were bad enough and being bad caused the people to sit up and take notice.

FLAYS OPPONENTS.

"But the coming forward in this morning's press of seven would-be labor leaders, five of whom constituted the press committee of the so-called Building Trades Good Government League has to the knowledge of every consistent trades unionist in San Francisco been Citizens' Alliance hirelings.

"The same is true of the other few members of the so-called Building Trades Good Government Club. The entire membership of the so-called club numbers the unlucky thirteen. They are not trades unionists now; the majority of them are one-by-two contractors.

"As for Mr. Tom Eagan, he of Sacramento fame, is not worth taking notice of.

MAKES REPLY.

"Just a word or two regarding Mr. Furuseth's open letter. Mr. Furuseth, Mr. Langdon, Mr. Phelan, Mr. Spreckels and the yet crazy Livernash, are so well known to the labor movement of this city and county that it is unnecessary for me to reply to anything Furuseth might say. Mr. Furuseth is a dreamer who has never won anything for the wage-earner. I have. Mr. Furuseth, Mr Cody and Mr. Macarthur are supporting with all their might Dr. Taylor; so is Frank J. Symmes, J. A. Emery, national organizer of the Citizens' Alliance and Lester G. Burnett, business agent, manager and founder of the Stockton Citizens' Alliance branch.

DISLOYALTY CHARGED.

"Mr. Furuseth raves because Langdon was not nominated. Mr. Furuseth and Mr. Macarthur also raved when they declined, through their union, to support the carmen and their families, whom Mr. Patrick Calhoun was trying to starve into submission.

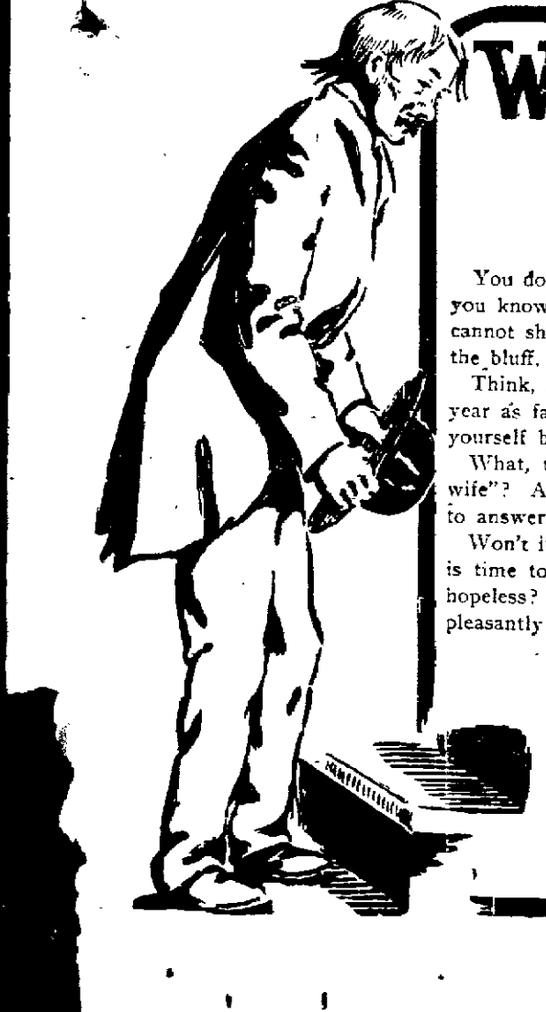

"If Mr. Furuseth is today standing behind Mr. Langdon, Mr. Spreckels, Mr. Phelan, Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Taylor who is doing, through his Chief of Police Biggy, the clubbing on the plain people generally for Mr. Calhoun, he is only doing what I always suspected him to be engaged in—an underhanded fight in behalf of a few multi-millionaires."

LEAGUE OF THE CROSS PLANS MILITARY BALL

The members of Company N, First Regiment, League of the Cross Cadets, have taken steps toward the celebration of their eleventh annual military ball. A committee of nine members has been appointed to carry out all plans. Central Hall has been secured and the date set for Tuesday evening, November 19. The young men of Company N need no introduction, as they belong to one of the most popular and active organizations in this city. Their reputation as high-class social entertainers is well established among thousands who have found it a delightful pastime to attend any affair arranged by the cadets. The net proceeds will be placed in the armory fund for the purpose of making comfortable the home of the boys.

Following are the members on the arrangement committee:

Sergeant A. Sylvia, chairman; Sergeant G. L. Courtney, vice-chairman; Sergeants J. N. Gallagher, H. J. Fazakerly, Privates J. P. Martin, S. C. Cronin, F. X. Smith, J. L. Leonard and J. P. Callaghan.

Will it come to this

You don't think so, of course, but way down in your heart you know you are in the grip of a demon. You know you cannot shake him off, but still you try to fool yourself with the bluff, "I can stop when I want to."

Think, soberly, if you can, if you "follow the dogs" next year as faithfully as you have been doing. If your hold on yourself becomes further weakened. Where will you land?

What, then, will become of "My dear children, my poor wife"? Ask yourself the question and force your better self to answer.

Won't it—won't it come to this? Don't you realize that it is time to act, to get the help without which your case is hopeless? If you want to know how you can be cured—pleasantly and permanently—write today to

MAYOR APPEALS FOR SUFFRAGES

Taylor and Langdon Deliver Addresses at Meeting Which Was Well Attended.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—The Taylor-Langdon meeting was well attended, despite the accommodations for the audience. It was held in an unfinished hall at Folsom street and Precita avenue. The seating capacity was small and many were forced to stand. When the hall filled up an overflow meeting formed around a large bonfire in the street. A band and a quartet furnished music during the evening. Speeches were made by Taylor, District Attorney Langdon, Walter Macarthur, John Sweeney and a number of candidates.

EXPLAINS BATHS.

Langdon explained the so-called immunity baths, saying that the only way to reach the wealthy criminals was by making the miserable lowly and less dangerous bribe-takers confess.

Walter Macarthur delivered a matter-of-fact talk to the laboring men present. He showed that politics was ruining the cause of organized labor. He accused McCarthy of sacrificing labor for personal advancement.

The editor of the "Seamen's Journal" closed with the prediction that if the Labor ticket was successful, strikes would soon be ordered from the City Hall.

URGES ELECTION.

Taylor urged the election of the Good Government ticket so the work so well started might be continued.

"We must have a government," he said, "free from class feeling and willing to treat all criminals alike. The foul sty in which San Francisco has been wallowing has been filled up and disinfected. Let us keep it so."

The Doctor warned his hearers against men who preached hatred and strife.

"We cannot build a city on that doctrine," were his closing words. "We have got to have harmony among all classes."

Ryan a Man of Ideals.

(From the Bulletin, August 14, 1907.)

Dan Ryan's victory over the Herrin organization is the best thing that has happened to the Republican party in many years. Mr. Ryan is a forceful, intelligent, eloquent man with ideals. Behind him stand the large body of thoughtful and public-spirited Republicans; the men who seek for nothing for themselves out of politics, and whose single purpose in voting is to save San Francisco from the boodlers and to secure for the city an honorable, competent administration representing all classes of clean men.

Ryan Absolutely Correct.

(From the Chronicle, August 16, 1907.)

Mr. Ryan has no part in the movement to nominate him. His attitude is absolutely correct, and we do not doubt will remain so. It may become very desirable to nominate him to wake end his friends will be careful just how not to give a great movement the appearance of a personal campaign. He would make an admirable Mayor.

ROYAL COURT.

Oakland Assembly of the Royal Court No. 25, at their meeting last week at Reed Hall, had a large attendance of enthusiastic workers. There were seven applications for membership and the following were initiated: James Lyon, John Good, Joseph Judge, Josephine Odell and William Odell. This makes a total of twenty-six applications for the month of October, sixteen of whom are already initiated. Complete arrangements were made for the Hallowe'en ball to be given this evening, the following committee having the matter in charge: Walter Tupper, J. C. Bourn, Walter Crosby, Mrs. Naismith, Mrs. Ormsby and Carrie Pritchard.

The floor committee is composed of the following members: Arnold Tobey, Frank Parrott and H. A. Blake. The refreshment booth will be in charge of William Naismith. The devil's march will be led by Albert Kaiser impersonating his satanic majesty. A. S. Ormsby will deliver the address of welcome to the distinguished visitor. The hall has been elaborately decorated in appropriate designs and colors.

There will be many new and novel features introduced during the evening, among them being a fancy dance by Miss Caseda Stabe, who is well known in Alameda county. Ghost songs, apple dance, moonlight effects, balloon dance and many others. Valuable prizes will be awarded to those with the best costumes. This is the opening ball of the season and no pains are spared to make it a success.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

GEORGE A. KNIGHT IS TO TAKE STUMP FOR RYAN

Famous Orator Will Address Assemblage Tonight in Behalf of the Republican Candidate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—George A. Knight, Republican national committeeman from California, will speak for Daniel J. Ryan tonight in the Auditorium rink, Page and Fillmore streets. The energetic orator, who first found his feet in Humboldt county and progressed through several stages so that he came to be called upon to second the nomination of William McKinley in 1900 and that of Theodore Roosevelt in 1904, is today taking the keenest interest in the local political situation.

Last night he returned to the city from a country trip, and announced himself in the following terms:

STUMP FOR RYAN.

"I am here to take the stump for Dan Ryan. It is a mystery to me and looks almost like an outrage that the man chosen by the convention of the Republican party should be threatened with defection from its ranks at a time like this.

"There is not the smallest excuse for turning Dan Ryan down. There must be some jobbery somewhere. I intend to speak upon that question tomorrow night with all the force in my power."

It will be a bumper meeting. The meeting is being promoted by the foremost Republicans in California. Invitations have been extended to all the members of the Republican State Central Committee and the Republican county committee, and Federal officers also will occupy seats on the platform.

RYAN TO TALK.

Ryan will address at the meeting some of the most influential Republicans in the State.

In addition, prominent citizens who have declined to recognize party lines in municipal crises like the present are voluntarily coming forward to help the young man who won out the primary election against corporative influences and freed the community for the time being from corrupt control.

So it looks like a case of come early if you want a seat tonight. It is not often that George A. Knight takes a personal interest in a municipal campaign, but he is doing it this time and he threatens to do it with a vengeance.

The Camp has until now been meeting at 521 Twelfth street each Monday night, but finding they could do better and have much more pleasant quarters, upon a vote of the members it was decided to move temporarily and also change their meeting nights to Saturday, until the Woodmen Hall, which is in course of erection shall have been completed. So until further notice, Oakland Camp No. 94 will meet each Saturday night at Pythian Castle. An excellent program has been prepared for the entertainment of guests, and all members and visiting neighbors are cordially invited to be present and make the chips fly. Head Manager Thomas M. Langdon's Queer Supporters.

Andrew Furuseth, leader of the dynamite element in the labor unions, says the re-election of Langdon is the supreme issue in the San Francisco election. "So say we all of us," chorus Ruef, Gallagher, Boxton, Lonergan, Kelly, Davis, Phillips and their pals. So says Rudolph Spreckels who negotiated the immunity contracts Langdon gave the boodlers. The contention that honest government and the good name of San Francisco depend upon the election of a candidate who has the support of the boss of a boodling ring and his band of malefactors would be relegated to the realm of comic opera if it were not urged with such sinister earnestness and with such base appeals to passion and prejudice. Furuseth, who is a Socialist and a Terrorist, openly urges workingmen to vote for Langdon on the ground that he will prosecute only the rich and leave the poor—no matter how criminal—go free. But he forgets that the same methods and agencies he endorses today may be used tomorrow to crush labor unions and railroad labor leaders to prison. He advocates syndicating the machinery of justice in the hands of unscrupulous capitalists who are at heart bitter enemies of organized labor.

Financial Situation Improving.

At the recommendation of the California Bankers' Association and the San Francisco Clearing House, Governor Gillett issued a proclamation last night declaring today a legal holiday and will continue to declare daily a succession of public holidays until the financial affairs of the East, where the original source of trouble is located, are adjusted and normal conditions restored. This course has been wisely adopted as a prudential measure, like that of the issuance of certificates by all of the clearing houses on the Pacific Coast in the settlement of cash balances, for the mutual defense of the banks and their patrons. Nothing could be more irrational or unfortunate than a panic. It would only create distress where there is absolutely no occasion for it, as there has been no time in the history of banking on this coast when the resources of the banks were ampler than they are now. The temporary stringency created in the money supply is due to causes well understood and which are being rapidly adjusted.

So far as the banks in all the large financial centers in California and in the other Pacific States are concerned, the issuance of clearing house certificates was not strictly necessary except as means of preventing the drain of gold from this side of the continent to satisfy the immediate wants of New York, where the issuance of clearing house certificates have stopped temporarily the ordinary flow of the coin balances due to the Pacific Coast. And while a succession of legal holidays will be declared, this does not mean that the banks will suspend business any more than they did when the same course was pursued for the thirty days following the great calamity to San Francisco in April, 1906. But it prudentially puts all of the banks in a position where they can protect their interests and the interests of their depositors and strengthen public confidence.

In the East the financial atmosphere is already clearing up. The enormous crop of the great staples which the country has produced this year are moving to the seaboard and the gold coin of the Old World is moving westward to meet them in such a volume that the shortage in the supply in the money centers of the country will be quickly covered. The situation has greatly improved in New York already and the removal of tension there means relief to the rest of the country. It is anticipated by the shrewdest and most sagacious financiers that the period of financial stringency will now be of very short duration and the precautionary steps that bankers all over the United States are taking will help to shorten it and restore matters to a normal condition.

Says the Alameda Argus: "The Fifty Thousand Club is in a position to do the home owners of Alameda a signal service by discouraging the reckless building of houses without any regard to the adjoining and neighboring structures. A single house standing squarely on the street line, while all the other houses in the block are set back a uniform distance, does large damage to an entire block." It cannot be helped, neighbor. This is one of the inevitable results and penalties of municipal growth which must be borne with fortitude. It is occurring in nearly every section of Oakland today, particularly in those parts which are in a state of transition from strictly residential to business uses. Putting a new building up to the property line is a sure sign that the land is becoming too valuable for strictly ornamental uses. Oakland property owners are becoming so accustomed to changes of this nature that they have learned to hail them with unqualified pleasure. It is no use kicking at the change, particularly when the latter has a distinct financial profit associated with it.

It may now occur to the more level-headed bankers in San Francisco that excited declarations to the effect that the financial salvation of the city depends upon the result of the municipal election have not contributed to monetary stability or security in the popular mind. There are times when the scare argument had better be laid aside or employed at least with reason and discretion. The election has yet to be held, but a financial crisis has come—not because of the imminence of the success of any particular candidate, but because of outside events and conditions over which the people of San Francisco have no control.

In all probability the docking facilities available at Hunter's Point will be largely utilized by the Navy Department during the time the battleship and cruiser fleet and the torpedo boat flotilla accompanying it will be stationed on the Pacific Coast. The cruiser California, which left Mare Island a short time ago under orders to go to Bremerton to be docked, has since been held at her moorings on Richardson's bay, pending action taken by the Navy Department on the comparative estimates of the cost of about 800 tons of coal which she will consume on the trip north and that of docking at Hunter's Point.

The late rains have developed the weak spots in the heavily traveled macadamized streets. Now is the time for the street department to gather its data and proceed vigorously with the necessary repairs. Some of the more heavily traveled streets in the southern part of the city, where the traffic is now enormous, have been so indifferently cared for that they are in an almost wrecked condition

Discord at Mare Island.

Trouble has broken out in the construction department at Mare Island between the riveters and Constructor Evans who recently came to the navy yard to reorganize the department. The Vallejo News of last Tuesday has this to say about the situation:

"At no time since Evans came here with the intention of reorganizing the construction department on Mare Island or breaking up the establishment has there been such a feeling of unrest as there is at present. For many months the men in Evans' department have groaned under the many burdens placed on their backs, but now the feeling against him is plainly manifested everywhere, though to express an opinion in the local Russia means the losing of a position. It was rumored about the yard yesterday that Commandant Phelps has not approved of the blacklisting of the men who quit last Saturday, but that he has sent the discharge cards back to Evans for further consideration. Captain Phelps, we believe, is fair and square and that 'he will not lie down' to the constructor as has previously been the case on the yard, we believe."

It appears from the story published by the News that twenty-five riveters quit the yard on Saturday because of the unfair treatment that they were receiving, went to San Francisco and obtained employment there at once at better wages than the Navy Department had been paying them. The constructor made matters worse by blacklisting the men who threw up their places, for on Monday several other employes in the construction department "quit their jobs in disgust," to quote the language of the News, "and it is understood that three Eastern mechanics who came to Mare Island to work as riveters refused to go to work for the 'cheap' pay offered." The News continues: "It would begin to look very much as though Evans, realizing that he had made a mistake on the Sheridan work, is endeavoring to create a condition so that he can throw the work to a private contracting firm and thus save his face."

It is unfortunate that any labor troubles should be created at present in the navy yard for the reason, if none other existed, that this is a time above all others when the establishment should husband all its resources and keep on the best of terms with its skilled workmen, in order to maintain its efficiency and promptly meet the demands which will be made upon it when the battleship fleet reaches this port. The Navy Department is already handicapped on this coast by a shortage of skilled mechanics. But if the head of the construction department is creating trouble among his men for the express purpose, as is alleged, of crippling the yard and throwing work which the establishment is equipped and being supported to perform, his conduct is virtually criminal and no time should be lost in removing him and putting some officer in charge who will win and hold the confidence of his subordinates and preserve harmony. Mare Island navy yard cannot be allowed to be discredited at this time by any one.

The raisin men and wine grapegrowers have had a wonderfully prosperous season this year. The rains held off to suit the wants of the former, in both Yolo and Fresno counties, to the dot. The first crop in both counties was cured and housed before the first showers fell, and while the second crop has been destroyed for raisinmaking, it suits the purposes of the wineries and the vineyard men are disposing of it to them at good prices for winemaking. Growers of wine grapes have made good money all over the State.

"We are firm believers in the doctrine that one man is as good as another," says the San Jose Times. Nonsense! The Times doesn't believe anything of the kind. For instance, it does not believe Abe Ruef or Jim Gallagher is as good as any ordinary citizen. Equal rights before the law and equal opportunities so far as organized society can supply them should be the heritage of all men; but one man is not as good as another, as a general proposition, either mentally, morally or physically. A distinction must be made between Judas Iscariot and the Apostle Peter.

Langdon & Co.'s Political Laundry.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: In a Bulletin editorial the indispensable Mr. Langdon is hailed as the hero in the preservation of the reputation and financial standing of San Francisco.

His defeat on election day is treated as a great calamity.

We are not told what would happen if Langdon contracted the measles, but we would lose all Eastern backing if he is not retained in office.

If Langdon were our only security the Eastern capitalists would not withdraw loans and credit on Langdon's defeat. There would be none to withdraw

To picture all San Francisco citizens as a nest of thieves upon the defeat of Langdon is going a little too far. But there are things which do make our reputation. For instance, the mean larceny of pennies through five-minute fake editions on prize fights.

The returns from such speculations make it possible to devote space to Langdon editorials free of charge

We do not object to the washing of dirty linen but Langdon as washerwoman will not get it clean by slopping around in the political tub.

It may be true that the publicity of the dirty linen washing and the spectacle it presents is not pleasant. And it may be better to wash it in public than to wear it. But did you ever see a sane housekeeper on the front doorstep washing the dirty linen and proudly proclaiming the wash to be the largest and most unclean in the country.

That work is done, and effectively, too, in the laundry or in the back yard where it should be done. Clean clothes is the object of washing. Washing is not done to advertise a brand of soap.

The sooner we get Langdon and the washtub off the front doorstep and find some one to do our washing in its proper place (before court and jury) the sooner our Eastern friends will believe that we have something besides the Langdon laundry in San Francisco.

Older also says that it is the washerwoman who has saved San Francisco and who is keeping business alive through the promise of clean linen hereafter.

Just try and do business or obtain credit on the pledges of the Langdon laundry. This security is free to all.

LAWRENCE CORBETT.

San Francisco, October 30, 1907.

The impression seems to be quite general in the East that Tom Johnson will be re-elected mayor of Cleveland The betting is 10 to 7 in his favor, and he is forcing the fighting. However, the re-election of Johnson will have a compensating feature. It will allow Theodore E. Burton, one of the ablest and most effective legislators in Congress, to remain at the head of the Rivers and Harbors Committee. Mr Burton can render his country infinitely greater service as Congressman than he can as mayor of Cleveland Moreover, Johnson seems to have given Cleveland an excellent government.

STRIKERS AT NAVY YARD SETTLE THEIR TROUBLES

VALLEJO Oct. 31—The riveters in the construction and repair department, who quite working on the Sheridan at the Mare Island Yard on Saturday owing to unsatisfactory conditions being forced upon the men by Constructor Evans, returned to work this morning, as the trouble was amicably adjusted.

STOCKTON COUNCILMEN CONSIDER CANAL WORK

STOCKTON, Oct 31—The objection of the City Council to the plan to divert the water of Mormon channel across the Boggs tract west of the city, directly into the San Joaquin river, instead of permitting the slit to run into Stockton channel and close that stream to navigation, will undoubtedly result in the abandonment of the project The Councilmen declare they cannot see where the city will reap any benefit from the proposition after spending $42,000, an dthey favor the original plan of digging a canal from Stockton channel to the Smith canal which connects with the San Joaquin river Along this waterway it will be possible to locate warehouses and give the city increased revenue for the additional water front In this way any appropriations made can be returned to the city treasury

Unless some plan is devised at once Stockton channel is liable to be closed by a sandbar at any time The first freshet will stop navigation, and the steamboat men are greatly worried. They are urging immediate action, and steps will probably be taken at once to begin digging the canal

SECURE RIGHTS TO BIG TRACTS OIL LAND

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 31—It has been learned that the Doheny interests and the Union Oil Company have obtained from the Miller & Lux estate mineral rights to over 50,000 acres of oil land in the McKittrick and Temblor districts The Union has obtained 25,000 acres in the Temblor country, and the Doheny 30,000 acres are toward McKittrick, in Kern and San Luis Obispo counties. Local oil men claim that the deal will mean a union pipe line from McKittrick to the coast

EDUCATED SECTION BOSS IS CRUSHED TO DEATH

SANTA CRUZ, Oct 31—J. F. Taylor, a shift boss for the Southern Pacific Company, who has been supervising a gang of men on tunnel four near Glenwood, went into the tunnel Tuesday evening to make sure that everything was all right for the passing of the narrow-gauge, when some of the overhead timbers gave way and fell upon him, crushing his skull and left foot

A companion witnessed the affair and rendered immediate assistance. Taylor was brought to this city on the next train and his injuries given medical attention, but he passed away yesterday afternoon. Taylor was a teacher by occupation and was a recent newcomer from Arkansas.

Avoid Hiked-up Fronts,

You may be of uncertain age and ungainly dimensions; you may measure 42 in one place and 54 in another with very little indication of a waistline in between—and yet you may have a good figure. This sounds paradoxical, but it's true.

Mrs. Rella Armstrong Whitney, authority on feminine figures and fixings, said so in all sincerity to a gathering of women who thronged Gimbels' auditorium yesterday to hear her deliver the last of her talks on dress.

The middle-aged woman had her inning at this seance. With the consoling assurance that it's never too late to be beautiful, and that a good figure depends upon the adaptation of lines and the use of perspective dressmaking aids, Mrs. Whitney bolstered up the hopes of her not over-slender audience.

"Now," she began briskly, "don't dress yourself up like fowl fixed for the oven, with a string around the middle and an undisguised distribution of fat above and below.

The short, stout woman should avoid skin-tight clothes. She should not encase herself in plain black satin, with bursting seams and tight armholes, nor should she wear a fussy, fluffy light gown designed for a slender debutante."

A FINE MODEL.

With the aid of a model who appeared on the stage costumed in a plum-colored suit, clinging loosely to her generous figure, Mrs. Whitney demonstrated to her hearers just what constituted the snags a fat woman is likely to run up against.

In the first place, the lecturer said, if you are fat in one place it's a good idea to add a little appearance of fat in another, instead of accentuating the areas that are out of proportion. For instance, a woman with big hips and small shoulders shouldn't wear her clothes tight over the shoulders, and vice versa.

"Distract the eye from the point of overdevelopment and you'll get the desired effect," she said.

Some of her axioms seemed a little complex, and for a while there was a great deal said about cross lines, points of prominence and given dimensions that sounded like propounding a proposition in Euclid; but that part of the audience given to middle and embonpoint looked as if everything was perfectly clear.

"HIKED-UP" FRONTS.

"Nothing makes a short, stout woman more ungainly," the figure expert said, "than a short skirt that hikes up in front and sags down in back. If an elderly woman hasn't achieved a 'straight front' there is danger of this, and it is of vital importance that a short skirt should have a clean, sharp line at the bottom.

"Those plaits and gathers beginning at the waist line should be tabooed by the woman of ample proportions. She should have her skirts shaped around the hips and the flare should come from below.

"Bad standing, bad corseting and bad walking give the middle-age woman an undesirable prominence below the waistline. She is inclined to be hollow in the back and prominent in front, and to eliminate this appearance she must avoid flap curves over the hips and not try to attain a sylphlike waist

Summing up her discourse, Mrs. Whitney pronounced the following "don'ts" in telling women how to look thin, though fat:

Don't wear unrelieved black.

Don't fail to cultivate long lines

Don't wear too many petticoats.

Don't try to adapt a 36 pattern to a 44 figure

Don't sag in one place and stick out in another, and, above all—

Don't wear your clothes skin tight.

Player Says She Cannot Be Wife And Actress Too

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—"One cannot serve two masters," says Miss Sarah Truax, who is starring with "The Spider's Web," and so, as she has decided to wed again, she will abandon the stage. Miss Truax has been married before and knows whereof she speaks. Only last April she was divorced from Guy Bates Post, who last week became the third husband of Miss Jane Peyton.

This time Miss Truax is to be married to a lawyer Charles Albert of this city. The engagement has been announced, but the date for the marriage has not been fixed. It is said the two met first two years ago, but it was not until the last summer at Lake Minnetonka that the barrister's suit finally met with success.

LATEST FAD IS TINY WATCH SET IN A RING

BOSTON.—The very latest fad in gold watches is the ring watch. It is a tiny watch, not as large as a silver dime, and set in a plain gold ring. A Back Bay woman had one made in Sweden while visiting, and it has been envied by all her friends since. It keeps perfect time.

Women are also wearing their gold watches on mannish fobs which hang from their tailor made coat picket. This is a very careless way to wear a watch, but some of the society women have as many as twelve watches.

The traveling clock is very convenient and pretty. It is a small clock in a leather case and a handle. When all closed it looks like a small hand bag. This watch is indispensable to the traveling woman. She can hang it in her berth at night, on the train, and it is also on her dresser in the hotel. She does not have to depend upon the hotel clock or the porter for the correct time.

Some very beautiful handbags have little gold watches inserted in them. The bags are made of leather and lined with Dresden silk. On the outside there is a little gold rim, where the watch is placed.

There are many women who wear watches in their bracelets. I saw one very unique style. It was a serpent bracelet, and a beautiful little green enameled watch was set in the head of the tiny serpent.

A woman attracted much attention in the elevated train with an umbrella which had a watch inserted directly on the top.

THREE WIVES MOURN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—When Joseph L. Dennis, who died Saturday, is buried today or tomorrow he will be mourned by three wives, none of whom knew of the other two until just before his death, according to the testimony brought out in the coroner's hearing.

Dennis visited Laura Dennis, one of the wives, at her home, 921 Lombard street. He was not feeling well, and shortly after his arrival became so ill that he directed Laura to go after Mattie Dennis, who lived at 1229 Pine street.

Surprised Laura went, and when the two returned he asked Mattie to go after No. 3. But he gave the wrong address, and Mattie couldn't find her. He died soon afterward. The third "Mrs." Dennis has not been found.

Dennis kept his triple life a secret by scattering his three households. He is said to have been impartial, and to have lived with each two weeks out of six.

One Lone Husband

NEITHER KNEW OF EXISTENCE OF TWO OTHERS UNTIL HE IS ON DEATHBED

MAN SHE LOVES IS HIDDEN FROM HER

DENVER, Oct. 30.—The parents of James Arnold, the Northern Coal and Coke Company clerk who held himself up and stole $3000, have secreted the young man so that his sweetheart, Florence Carson, cannot see him. They frigidly refuse all requests of the young woman to be told the whereabouts of her lover.

Arnold's parents had objections to him being so attentive to Miss Carson before his arrest. He is an only son, and the mother has been more wrapped up in him, perhaps, than mothers usually are in sons. For this reason the young man kept secret his great attachment for the young woman, and had not even notified his parents that he and she were about to be married. Nor that they intended to go to some other city to begin their married life.

The day of the arrest, however, when the young woman went to the Arnold home, the mother threw her arms about her neck and clung to her as her sole refuge. The girl's naturally sunny spirit did duet to cheer the mother and brace her for the forthcoming shock of being told that "her Jimmy" was in a felon's cell and would most likely be sent to the penitentiary. When the sobbing and wakened mother visited her son at the city jail it was the steady hand and spirit of Miss Carson that strengthened her.

But now there is a new situation. The young man is out on $3000 bond. There is the hopefulness of the insanity plea. And now the sweetheart is forbidden the home of her lover, and told in so many words that she is held responsible for Arnold's predicament; that if it had not been for her Arnold would not have stolen the money.

Miss Carson at her work as a milliner for the New York Millinery Company, 900 Fifteenth street, begs to be excused from a statement of her side. "If you please," she says, "I would rather not say anything. The notoriety already received is extremely distasteful, and I know that, when I ask you, nothing more will be put into the papers."

It was asserted that there had been a strike at the millinery story when Miss Carson returned to take her old place and that all the other girls had left. One girl did leave, but no others did, or had any thought of going. The one who walked out is Miss Lottie Cook of No. 1604 Tenth street.

"I do not feel that I can afford to work there as long as Miss Carson is there," said Miss Cook this morning. "I have nothing against Miss Carson, whatever, but it is the notoriety of being in her company to which I object. I know people who come into the store would ask me about this affair and I don't know anything of it except what I read in the papers."

Miss Cook is a very sensitive young lady. She had been with the millinery company but two months and does not know Miss Carson very well, but she says she is far, far above her position there and does not intend to stay in a place where she knows there will be a lot of notoriety.

What Is the Gallant, Blushing Court to Do When—

Woman Hides Papers In Her Stocking?

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—A woman's wit and her faith in the gallantry of Chicago men were the foundations for an impromptu comedy that received its initial, and probably final, presentation in a temporary courtroom in the Marquette building. When the curtain fell the honor of Chicago men was still unassailable, but the heroine was in tears and "the papers," so necessary to a real melodrama, were in possession of their rightful owner.

The setting of the playlet was an office in the Marquette building, where C. Russell Leonard was taking depositions of witnesses for Walter A. Mayr of Los Angeles and his wife, Anna Etta, who are tired of their domestic ties and are seeking divorce. Mrs. Mayr appeared as the injured heroine, while the local color was furnished by deep red blushes on the cheeks of former Judge Vail and Attorney Nathan S. Smyser. A capable chorus of witnesses and attaches assisted.

The first scene opened with a witness telling a story of the domestic woes of the Mayrs. This is to be sent to a California judge, who is to hear the case. Mrs. Mayr says her husband was cruel to her. He says she was too attentive to some one else. Certain important and mysterious "papers" figured frequently in the dialogue.

PAPERS GONE; SO IS WIFE.

Suddenly Mayr jumped from his seat and ran into an ante-room. He returned with his face blanched—as it should have been.

"The papers are gone," he exclaimed. "So is my wife."

"Mrs. Mayr just went down the hall with something in her hand," interrupted a minor character, taking his cue. Quick shift of scene to the corridor of the building. Mayr in the lead closely followed by lawyers and others.

"She's in there," exclaimed Mayr pointing to a closed door. "Who will regain the papers for me?"

"Let's go back," diplomatically whispered former Judge Vail, and the party returned to the courtroom. A girl member of the chorus, taking a speaking part on quick notice, was told to ask Mrs. Mayr to return to the room. This she did in a few minutes.

SHE HAD THEM.

"Yes, I have the papers," she remarked, dramatically, standing where the sunlight, which did duty for a calcium, struck her. "I have them with me, but no gentleman who is a gentleman will take them from me."

"Where are they?" asked Commissioner Leonard.

"I have them but don't you dare to try to find out," returned Mrs. Mayr.

"I want my papers," reiterated Mayr. "Get them for me." This to the courtroom in general.

There was a consultation of attorneys and Mrs. Mayr was told by her lawyer that she would have to return the papers.

EVERYBODY LOOKS AT THE FLOOR

"Well, if I have to, all right," returned the woman, "but you will have to turn the other way." Then while the company looked demurely at the floor there was a swish of skirts, a dive into a stocking, and Mrs. Mayr threw the "papers," slightly crumpled but intact, upon the floor.

"There," she said and began to cry.

Mayr is a wealthy manufacturer in Los Angeles and is stopping at the Lexington, while his wife is at the Lessing with friends.

14 Homesick Brides Arrive From Isthmus

NEW YORK.—Fourteen brides—count 'em—fourteen, arrived on the steamer Colon from Cristobal. The young women, all beautiful and charming, were also homesick, and that's the reason they took passage for New York and home. They are all wives of employees on the canal.

Some were married before they went South to live and others went there to be married, but they're all coming back for a visit and to shop.

They stood it just as long as they could away from "mother and home," and after they cheer up the old folks a little by their visit in the States they will rejoin their busy husbands.

SACRIFICES WIFE AND BABY TO ART AND BIG BROTHER

Judge Says Art Is No Excuse for Man to Let Pretty Girl and Infant Child Starve to Death

NEW YORK.—Pasquale Tallarico, at 16, of No. 217 West Twenty-fourth street, is a musical genius, and his brother John, who is his guardian, has decided that nothing shall stand in the way of his studies. Pasquale has a pretty wife, Florence, and a baby was born to them recently. His love for the baby caused Pasquale to neglect the piano. John felt it his duty to interfere.

He told Pasquale that wife and baby must not stand in the light of his career, and he took Pasquale home with him to rap his knuckles if he did not practice at the piano. Florence and the baby went to court yesterday, having summoned Pasquale before Magistrate Droege for non-support. John was there, as was Pasquale, sad-eyed and disconsolate.

ART NO EXCUSE.

"Art is no excuse for a man who doesn't support his wife," said Magistrate Droege.

"But this lad has remarkable talent," said the big brother. "And his music must be paramount. This girl is standing in his way, and that is why I took Pasquale from her. I am willing to support the child, but the girl must shift for herself."

"I'd like to have you put in jail," snapped the magistrate. Turning to H. B. Smith, who appeared for the big brother, the magistrate said: "I think this is the most brutal proposal I ever heard. The boy has got to support his wife, if he had to sell peanuts to do so. Art is no excuse for a case of this kind."

Pasquale, who took little part in the argument, gave bond to pay $5 a week. He and the girl looked lovingly at the baby and then at each other, but the musician was led away on the arm of the big brother.

Asked to Be Her Teddy Bear and-- They're Wedded

ELWOOD, Tex.—The "Teddy bear" craze has struck Elwood in a new form and the salutation of about half of the population of the younger set is, "Say, please let me be your Teddy bear." This came about through a surprise wedding, which took place when Clinton Sidwell, a son of a local jeweler, and Miss Maggie Barnett were married.

She was standing in front of a store window a few weeks ago, seeing a display of Teddy bears and remarked to a friend: "I would love to have one of those cute little things." Sidwell was passing and heard the remark, when he said, "Let me be your Teddy bear." This "broke the ice" and the wedding took place recently.

where she will make a stay of several months. She will be chiefly engaged during this time, so far as her work is concerned, in executing etching commissions for John Wanamaker and other Philadelphia art dealers.

As she is socially very widely known, she will, of course, be extensively entertained. She is a member of the Partington family, formerly of Oakland, several of whose members have won distinction with brush and pen.

TO STOCKTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Tower (Alma Brown), left Monday for Stockton, where they are to make their home. For a few days they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, the bride's parents, and it is probable that Mrs. Tower will be a frequent guest in Oakland, as she has always taken an active part in the city's social life. The marriage of the young people, on the 19th, was one of the most interesting events of the season.

OAKLAND CLUB.

The musical afternoon given by the Oakland Club yesterday added much to the reputation for high grade entertainments that the club is rapidly gaining. Miss Estelle Franklin Gray, a young violiniste of unusual gifts, contributed the principal numbers on the program, and her work was a revelation to many persons who had come expecting to hear only a young player of more than ordinary intelligence.

Miss Gray has intelligence of a high order, but her playing has a fire and dash that mean not talent, but genius. Her numbers yesterday gave unexpected flashes that indicate a rare and individual temperament. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert M. Hughes, a pianist who is coming to be recognized as one of the most artistic players in any of the bay cities. Miss Marion Coyle, a singer of superior culture, supplied the vocal music. Miss Coyle's voice is contralto, very smooth and sweet, and she sings as a poet reads. The entire program was repeated some months ago by Mrs. Lucien P. Longworthy before her departure for Arizona, and the president of the club took occasion to express regret that Mrs. Longworthy had not heard the program to enjoy it as did the club and its three hundred guests.

Following is the complete program:

Goddard. ..... "Concerto Romantique"
Allegro moderato.
Recitativo.
Adagio non troppo
Canzonetta.
Allegro molto
Miss Estelle F. Gray.
Mrs. Hughes at the piano.

Ponchielli.... a "Romanza," from "Gioconda"
Schumann....b "Widmung"
Haydn .....c "The Spirit Song"
Miss Marion Coyle.
Miss Linda Wilson, accompanist.

d'Ambrosio ..... a "Canzonetta"
Monti..... b "Gipsy Dance"
(By request.)
Miss Estelle F. Gray.

Goetz.....a "Melisande in the Wood"
Del Riego....b "Happy Song"
Miss Marion Coyle.

On the reception committee for the day were Mrs. S. N. Palmer, Mrs. J. S. Nalsmith, Mrs. W. S. Peters, Mrs. J. F. McMath, Mrs. J. K. Ritter, Mrs. J. Potter, Mrs. H. J. Patterson, Mrs. Harry Roach, Mrs. J. W. Palmer, Mrs. W. S. Rheem, Mrs. J. Ronald, Mrs. W. F. Rudough, Mrs. M. McDougald, Mrs. A. W. Baker, Miss Russeau and Mrs. C. J. Pillsbury.

HOBGOBLIN PARTY.

Thirty-five or forty young people have received invitations to a hobgoblin party to be given by Master Carl Nutting and his sister Ruth this evening at their home, 1020 Eighth street. All sorts of Hallowe'en thrills are promised, and a witch will be in attendance to read fortunes, in accordance with the Hallowe'en custom. Preparations for a lively frolic indicate that the young people and the hobgoblins will have things very much their own way in the Nutting home for this occasion.

MRS. CHARLES BURGNER.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. T. Parker of Twenty-sixth avenue, Fruitvale, will entertain the members of the Tuesday Club and a few other friends at a Hallowe'en party this evening, the date being coincident with Mrs. Parker's birthday and also the wedding anniversary. The guests will appear in Hallowe'en costumes, the decorations and amusements for the jollification all being in keeping with the legends of the night.

Those invited are Mr. and Mrs. William Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Houser, Mr. and Mrs. L. Roy Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard Seely, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Matheson, Mr. Benjamin Franklin, Miss Marie Blatchley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fletcher, Rev. and Mrs. Burton Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer Riley, Mr. Walter Kennedy.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Madge Culver of Oakland and Robert C. Cross of Berkeley. Miss Culver is the daughter of Mrs. Hattie Warner Culver of Oakland and has made her home in Oakland for the past two years, following a period of seven or eight years spent in Honolulu. She is a charming girl, clever and very interesting, and she holds the warm regard of a very wide circle of friends.

Mr. Cross is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cross of 3009 Telegraph avenue, in Berkeley, a family of much social distinction. The wedding of Mr. Cross's sister, Miss Daisybelle Cross, to Dr. Harry Smith was an interesting event of the early part of the month, and both Mr. Cross and his fiancee were in the wedding party.

The prospective bridegroom is connected with the furniture house of F. W. Ten Winkle & Company. He has been representing the firm in several coast cities, but is shortly to be stationed in Los Angeles, in charge of the southern field, and there the young people will reside after their wedding, which is to be a January affair.

Both Mr. Cross and his fiancee are personally very popular with the younger set, and the announcement of their engagement will be the signal for a number of pretty social compliments.

EURYDICE CLUB.

The Eurydice Club will again appear before the musical public of Oakland and vicinity on next Monday evening, November 4, at Ebell Hall, when the second concert of the fifth season takes place. This young ladies' singing club is composed of members from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, and is under the direction of Mrs. Grace Davis Northrup, who will wield the baton next Monday evening.

A carefully prepared program will be given, and will include numbers by Max Bruch, Bargiel, Elgar, Neidlinger, Chaminade, Frederick Stevenson, Clough Leighter, etc., two of which have incidental solos for baritone which will be sung by a well-known soloist. Miss Estelle Drummond will accompany the club on the piano, and Misses Edith Warner and Sydney Miller on the violin.

MUSICAL AFTERNOON.

Mrs. George Faulkner is to entertain at her home Thursday, November 7, giving her guests a musical afternoon. About seventy-five cards are out and it is unlikely that the popular hostess will receive many regrets.

Mrs. Faulkner is a musician of much distinction, and as she has at her disposal the services of a great many musical friends, she will undoubtedly arrange a program of unusual interest.

DINNER AND CARDS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Gibbs entertained on Tuesday evening at a charming dinner at their home. The guests were the members of the Thursday Whist Club a little circle of young matrons, and the affair of Tuesday also included the husbands of the regular players.

The house was very elaborately decorated in red and green, red carnations and asparagus fern, making the rooms most attractive. The table bore a profusion of the rich red blossoms and red-shaded candelabra carried out the color scheme.

Following the dinner there was a most enjoyable game of whist in which all the guests took places. Of the four prizes the first for ladies fell to Mrs. Crawford, the second to Mrs. W. Smith. The gentlemen who won were Mr. Chloupek and Mr. Nelle.

Participating in the pleasant affair were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Chloupek, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schlueter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cowen, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Journal, Mr. and Mrs. George Samuels, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nelle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Terney, Mr. and Mrs. George Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Day and Mr. celve many regrets.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

Miss Edith Lancaster of 1386 Webster street, has invited a score of young people to participate in a Hallowe'en revel that will include all the time-honored traditions of the night. Black cats, witches and Jack-o'-lanterns are used in decorating the rooms, and are to be carried into the details for decorating the table where a tall witch is to stand in the place of honor, leaning upon her broomstick. The pockets of her gown will hold fortune scrolls for all the boys and girls who attend.

Miss Lancaster has invited Miss Beta Swift, Miss Bessie Swift, Miss Blanche Bowers, Miss Mary Burckhalter, Miss Pearl Freeman, Miss Alice Mansfield, Miss Florence Spencer, Miss Rachel Greene, Miss Georgia Santee, Burton Mincher, Clifford Anderson, William Moore, Harry Newton, Christian Lucas, Adolph Lucas, Arthur Mansfield, John McBratney, Fred Gallin and Robert Shuey.

AT BROOKDALE.

The Bert S. Hubbards of Linda Vista are building an attractive bungalow at Brookdale, where so many Oakland people are now located. It is to be a summer home, but the Hubbards will use it all through the year, as are others who have places in that vicinity.

FROM HUCKLEBERRY ISLAND.

Mrs. H. C. Capwell and her children are again in town after a pleasant sojourn at the Capwells' country home in Huckleberry Island, near Brookdale. The A. S. Lavensons with their young daughter, were guests for a week at the Capwell home.

CARD AFFAIR.

Mrs. Arthur Fish, formerly Miss Mollie Jarvis, was a recent hostess, entertaining about thirty friends at cards. Though very informal, the affair was charmingly arranged, and was much enjoyed by the guests who attended.

AT SAN LEANDRO HOME AFTERNOON AFFAIR.

A very pretty afternoon affair was given on Saturday in San Leandro at the home of Miss Emma C. C. Herrscher in honor of one of the local sororities. A large number of the members and their friends attended, and the afternoon was pleasantly spent over a variety of games. An interesting musical program was one of the features of the afternoon, and a clever amateur fortune-teller made sport for all who consulted her.

The spacious parlors of the Herrscher home were attractively decorated, sprays of baby roses and branches of autumn-tinted maple, strung with fairy lights of pink and green, forming an artistic combination. The rooms are large and airy, lending themselves very readily to the elaborate decorating scheme. Light refreshments were served during the afternoon by the hostess, who was aided in her pleasant duties by an attractive group of prettily gowned assistants.

WHIST PARTY.

Mrs. O. Christensen, the wife of Captain Christensen, was a recent afternoon hostess, entertaining a party of whist-players at her home on Market street. A very pleasant game was enjoyed, and was followed by an informal hour and a dainty repast.

The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. C. Nammany, Mrs. S. Christensen, Mrs. P. Petersen, Mrs. Kastersen, Mrs. H. Hermanson, Mrs. N. Nelson, Mrs. Edwardson, Mrs. Madson, Mrs. Matherson, Mrs. P. Christensen, Mrs. H. Petersen, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Lercher, Mrs. K. Andersen, Mrs. R. Peterson, Miss Electra Peterson, Miss Emma Lundborg and Miss Stella Christensen.

CHILDRENS' PARTY.

Mrs. Harry Bishop gave a number of children a most delightful frolic at her home in Piedmont on Thursday of last week, celebrating the birthday of her small son. Thirty little people assembled in response to the invitations, and Mrs. Bishop provided a number of delightful surprises for them. One very amusing feature was the presence of the street-organ man who goes about with a small monkey. The monkey went through a number of funny tricks and the children were delighted.

After a number of games had been enjoyed, the small guests were seated about a big table, elaborately decorated in green, and laden with all the dainties that belong to childrens parties. It was a most successful affair, giving great pleasure to the little ones and to their grown-up hostess.

ARTS AND CRAFTS.

An interesting exhibit is being held in San Francisco at 1825 California street, showing the work of the California Club of Arts and Crafts. Studies in life, composition, modeling and metal work are being shown, and are of great interest to the large numbers of people who attend the exhibit. In charge of the exhibit are F. H. Meyer, Miss Isabel Percy, Miss Gladys Ackerman and Miss Elizabeth Serrea.

JACOT-MORRILL.

The engagement is announced of Miss Coralin Jacot and Ralph Burnett Morrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Morrill of Piedmont. No date is as yet set for the wedding.

Miss Jacot is the niece of Mrs. Allen Ayres of Oakland and of Mrs. David Campbell of Ypsilanti, Michigan, where Miss Jacot made her home during the two years that she attended the State Normal College of Michigan.

AFTERNOON AFFAIR.

Mrs. J. M. McKinlay entertained on Tuesday in an informal way, having thirty or forty friends in for a social hour. Among the guests of the day were Mrs. Martin Munson, Miss Mildred Hill, Mrs. Frank Brophy, Mrs. W. H. Sawtell, Mrs. Louis Simons, Mrs. H. S. Benestell, Mrs. Duncan McKinlay, Mrs. P. Lacy, Mrs. Henry Hook, Mrs. E. Jackson of Alameda, Mrs. Lorena Hoag, Mrs. Bert Wilson, Mrs. J. H. Woods, Mrs. R. A. Bull, Mrs. P. G. McIntyre, Mrs. M. EUROPEAN TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martens, who left here on the first of May for Europe, are now in Paris, at the Hotel Beau-Sejour. During the summer they have traveled much through Germany, Switzerland and France, and they are to go to Italy before they return. They will probably leave Naples on the eighth of November, and expect to reach Oakland again early in December.

Mr. Martens has made his home in Oakland for the past thirty-five years, and is a very well known and respected citizen. He is in the insurance business, with offices at 464 Eleventh street.

ON CRUISER CALIFORNIA.

Miss Marie Butters, Miss Marguerite Butters, Miss Gertrude Russell, Miss Susie Nicholls, Miss Anna Peters and Miss Georgia Strong were entertained yesterday by Lieutenant-Commander McCulla on board the cruiser California. A number of other guests from San Francisco also attended, the affair being decidedly smart, as are most of the entertainments arranged by the naval officers.

IN PARIS.

Professor F. B. Farrington and Mrs. Farrington are in Paris, where they will remain for the winter. Mrs. Farrington is following her musical bent, and is hard at work under a famous teacher. Professor Farrington is engaged in work along his own line, and they expect to achieve much during the winter months. They will not return to their Berkeley home until late in the summer.

FRESNO WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Clay, with some other members of the family have gone to Fresno, where they will attend the wedding of a young relative, Miss Mary Meux, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Meux, who is to marry Harry Barbous, a young attorney of Fresno.

HOME WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Laura Elizabeth Canty and Charles Augustus Burgner took place last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Canty, at Sixteenth and Myrtle streets. The Rev. Father McSweeney of St. Francis de Sales Church read the marriage service in the presence of about sixty of the friends and relatives of the two families.

The bride was gowned in white embroidered grenadine, with a touch of gold in the lace that trimmed it. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses, and wore a garland of orange blossoms in her hair. Her bridesmaid, Miss Veronica Canty, was daintily gowned in pink, a soft fabric that hung gracefully in the Empire model chosen.

The bridegroom had as his best man an old friend, Chester Martin, of Alameda. Miss Burgner, a sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding march.

The house was beautifully decorated in pink and green, the halls, reception-rooms and diningroom being tastily trimmed in pink roses and masses of greens. Congratulations and a supper followed the ceremony, and the young people departed on a wedding trip. On their return they will take possession of a pretty house in Alameda.

HOME CLUB.

Tonight at the Home Club in East Oakland, Mrs. Harriet Chalmers Adams is to speak on "Peru of the Incas and Today." Mrs. Adams has made a study of South American history, and has personally investigated present day conditions there, going on exploring trips such as few women would dare to undertake. She talks delightfully of her experiences, and her account of her trip to the source of the Amazon is very instructive. It abounds in dramatic incidents, which Mrs. Adams relates in a most fascinating manner.

On the reception committee for this evening are Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Boone, Miss Ethel Moore, Miss Caroline Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Taylor, Professor and Mrs. E. J. Wickson, Colonel and Mrs. G. C. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Weston, Mrs. Goodhue, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Miss Margaret Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Hubbard, Mrs. E. C. Hagar and Mrs. F. F. Barbour.

Cremers, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Sinner have the affair in charge, and are doing much to enlist the interest of the Elks in the proposed club.

A very fine program will be a feature of tomorrow's meeting, the numberes to be given by Mrs. Herbert Sanford Howard, reader, and Miss Bernice Holmes, contralto.

SAYS IT IS FACT

The Tribune Confirms Guarantee on Hyomei, Cure for Catarrh.

The question having been raised as to whether or not the money will be refunded if a Hyomei outfit does not do all that is claimed for it in curing catarrh, THE TRIBUNE wants to state positively that this guarantee is an absolute fact.

A guarantee like this is the best proof that can be offered as to the curative powers of Hyomei in all catarrhal troubles. You do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues.

If you have catarrh, try this wonderful medicated air of Hyomei. It does not drug or derange the stomach but is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, so that its medication reaches the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, where any catarrhal germs may be lurking. It quickly destroys them, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and vitalizes the tissues so that catarrh is no longer possible. You can lose nothing by giving Hyomei a trial, nothing but the catarrh, and that is good riddance.

We positively guarantee Hyomei, for should you buy a complete outfit, price $1.00, and be dissatisfied with results your money will be refunded. Hyomei is sold by druggists everywhere. Write for literature. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS

VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

THE FINEST UPRIGHT PIANO EVER MADE

——When this is said of the Steinway Vertegrand, we fully realize how sweeping and broad the statement will appear to you. To us it is but a simple truth.

——The Vertegrand is best because it is an upright in form only—for convenience. It is in effect a grand piano. It has a bigness of tone that yields the broad orchestral effect of a grand; responsiveness that is looked for only in a grand; a nicety of action that affords those musical effects that seem a part of the grand only; a delicacy of touch that suggests the grand action, and a richness of voice that is associated only with the masterpieces of pianomaking.

——The Vertegrand is best because it is made best. It is made of the same quality of materials used in the costliest Steinway concert pianos; made by the same men; made under the personal direction of eight members of the Steinway family. It is a great art work, made and priced for popular sale—$525, cash or time.

——Steinway Miniature Grand, the smallest real grand, $800.

SHOULD INVESTIGATE PLANTS

Oakland Cal, Oct 29, 1907.

Editor TRIBUNE —Let Oakland profit by the experience of other cities Just now the City Council is investigating plans and methods of disposing of the city's garbage I would suggest sending a member of the Council to Sacramento where there has recently been installed a large incinerating plant, or to Southern California where there are several plants of improved type—one at Los Angeles one at Santa Monica one at Ocean Park Let the Council investigate and inform themselves, not through blue prints and glib salesmen but by the actual workings of these various incinerators and figure the cost per ton to these various cities for the burning of garbage

Don t unload a white elephant upon the city that will cost thousands of dollars in repairs and maintenance but through investigation let them select the best type for the needs of Oakland now and for the future The opportunity is ripe Oakland needs such a plant and let there be no delay in securing one Yours truly

J L FINE, 479 Ninth St

City Should Act at Once.

Oakland, Cal Oct 30 1907

Editor TRIBUNE —Just a line or two in your valuable paper to say a word in favor of a proposition which the City Council is now considering and that is the erection of a garbage incinerator for Oakland The needs of the city along this line are very apparent. There can be no real opposition to such a movement for a trip to various portions of the city, which are now and have been used as dumping grounds would convince the most skeptical ones of our slackness in things which most deeply concern Oakland s greatest asset, the health of her people

Let no penny wise pound foolish policy actuate the board in this matter We have now in Oakland a population of a quarter million of people and we must provide wisely for them and for the great volume who are to come later Let us look first to those conditions governing health While the danger of a plague which has been exploited more or less in the daily press is abroad every precaution we can take will react to our benefit Let the council advertise for bids from the various companies manufacturing these incinerators then let the best be selected—not necessarily the lowest in price for that is not always the cheapest In Los Angeles there is a plant recently constructed which I understand returns a revenue to the city

Investigate all the plants up and down the coast and in some of the larger Eastern cities if necessary but by all means let us do something right away

Yours truly

Merchant Desires Improvement

Oakland Oct 31, 1907

Editor TRIBUNE —Oakland is very rapidly taking the front rank as a city of homes and for very obvious reasons—because we possess the most equable climate on the coast, educational and religious advantages first class stores theaters and amusement parks and the most natural site for the various manufacturing enterprises

There are on the other hand disadvantages to a certain extent and while I have no desire to create a mountain out of a mole hill yet there is one thing wherein Oakland has not shown the spirit of progressiveness that has otherwise characterized her policy I refer to the utter neglect of sanitary conditions in relation to the disposition of refuse and garbage I know of cities in this State of not more than 10 000 population who meet this problem far more satisfactorily than we do with 250 000 I am surprised and ashamed that our city should permit the dumping of this vile and filthy refuse as they have in the past and perhaps are doing now in the vicinity of beautiful Lake Merritt and in the open territory to the west of the city This should all be burnt and destroyed just as is done in far less important cities I understand the city has an antiquated refuse incinerator on its hands now If this plant has not the capacity why is it not torn down and a modern and up to date one erected?

Disease is bred and a terrible contagion takes hold of a city from just such conditions as exist in our city now and every precaution we can take as individuals and as a municipality for the preservation of the community health will add just that much more to the fame of Oakland at home and abroad

Trusting you will give this letter to the public through the columns of THE TRIBUNE Very truly yours

PROMINENT MERCHANT ADVISES

Oakland Cal Oct 28 1907

Editor Tribune—While coming in from East Oakland on the car recently my attention was called to the dumps that lie between East Eighth street and East Twelfth street and it was with shame that I had to acknowledge that our city had been up to a very recent time using this most beautiful section as a dumping ground for rotten rubbish and poisonous refuse Within a stone's throw of this breeding ground of filth are a score or more of Oakland s finest homes and the prettiest salt water lake in the world

How such a condition was ever possible and why it was permitted to continue as long as it did those in authority in the City Hall only know That this same spot marked by tin cans street rubbish and household refuse stands as a strong (?) advertisement of our antiquated and unsanitary method of disposing of garbage is certain

I was reading recently of the campaign which the Chamber of Commerce is to inaugurate to bring people to Oakland going to advertise the city etc etc Oakland will never hold them when they come unless Oakland comes to her senses and by cleaning up this district referred to and erecting a modern garbage incinerator a step forward will have been taken Yours truly

STANFORD VARSITY TEAM EASILY DEFEAT VANCOUVER

Lanagan's Men in Good Form--Superior Speed Wins for the College Men.

By EDDIE SMITH.

The great majority of the Rugby fans who journeyed to Palo Alto yesterday to see the first game between the varsity team of the Stanford University and Vancouver did so with the firm belief that the collegians were in for a beating at the hands of the visitors.

This belief was brought about by the defeat of the Stanford team by the Barbarians last week and when the team made its appearance and it was noticed that they were rather light, especially so with the forwards, the opinion that the Canadians would win was made stronger.

The minute that the ball was put in play, however, the varsity fifteen startled everyone, even including their most ardent admirers with the clever and rapid manner in which they handled the ball.

After Vancouver had kicked off Stanford came so fast and with such dash that it seemed to bewilder the visiting players, for after a few fumbles by the Vancouver backs, Pemberton shot like a thrilling passes all across the field, invariably making great gains by their speed and accuracy.

During these passes the players do not lose a foot of ground by waiting for the ball or by getting a start. Every time that the ball was passed yesterday to a Stanford man, he took it on a dead run and was always sure of some gain before he was compelled to again pass the ball.

The final score of 28 to 12 means that the Stanford team is to prove a far more formidable opponent for the California boys than was expected.

The stars of the Stanford team yesterday were Miller, Pemberton, Fenton, Caldwalder and Owen. During the game Owen pulled off two plays that were the most thrilling that the writer has yet seen pulled off in a Rugby game.

The first was in the early part of the second half. Pemberton had secured the ball, but when pressed he passed it to Owen, who outrunning the Vancouver backs, made a dash for the goal post like flash over the line earning a try for his team. Fenton k[illegible] goal before the game was thr[illegible] old.

The scoring of [illegible] boys seemed to stimulate t[illegible] who had opened rather indifferently and they buckled down to wor[illegible] At the out-set of the game the Vancouver team had held the varsity team too cheap, but the rapid work of the team soon awakened them to the fact that they had their hands full with the fast little forwards of the varsity team. The first half ended with the score, Stanford 18, Vancouver 6.

In the second half the visiting team went in with a vengeance, trying to score at all times and fighting hard all the time. In the scrums the visitors were able to push the varsity forwards around in such a manner that they took the ball from Stanford several times.

The Vancouver men depended greatly on dribbling and kicking, at which style of playing it must be admitted they are very adept. The varsity team depended more on rapid fire, passing and long runs down the field. The varsity men of Stanford are far and away the best drilled team this year in the art of passing the ball to one another on the dead run, and time and again yesterday they pulled off the shot out of a cannon. He earned a try for the team with at least a thirty-five-yard gain.

Then again only a few minutes before time, he again received the ball at the midfield line and with greater speed than ever he ran along the line for the California goal, which he not only reached, but out-footed the Vancouver men so badly that he carried the ball clear around to the goal post, making it practically a certainty for a goal kick.

This play stamps Owen a marvel of speed and a player of judgment. It was noticeable that every time that he received the ball, he got it on a dead run, not losing an inch by the pass.

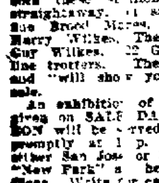

Owen, to the writer, is the fastest man seen on a football field since the days of Cillis, who came here with Senator Clark's crack Butte team some years ago.

The game on a whole was exceedingly exciting and plenty of enthusiasm was shown all through the play. The final score of the game shows that Stanford scored two more times than California did against the same team, while the Vancouver men scored the same in each contest, a thing that only adds to the difficult task of trying to pick the winner in the big game.

NOW AND THEN.

In the days of old, when warriors bold,
Fought for their "ladyes faire,"
The question of weights and the squabble for dates
Were things that were very rare.

On their chargers fierce they would strive to pierce
Their rivals and run them through,
And the fight was stopped when one man dropped
And the victor made his skidoo.

Then they had no purse to split and disburse,
And never a cry of fake;
The earth was the ring and honor the thing
Such were the matches they'd make.

But now in a go, they are out for the dough,
For glory won't buy a square meal,
The man with the "bull" is the man with the pull,
He's the one who comes through with the deal.

—Kelly, the R. S. Poet.

BY T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

NOW that the baseball season is practically over in the Coast League, it strikes the writer as rather strange that the management of some of the Coast League clubs should be so apathetic about trying out some of the youngsters, who are produced in the State.

Oakland has been particularly backward about trying out young players. True, they have picked up a young catcher named Sullivan, and yesterday Van Haltren put this strapping big fellow back of the bat. Sullivan did not do half badly for a fellow of limited experience and one who has had very little chance to practice.

But what's the matter with trying out a couple of young infielders? Can't they be had? Good judges of ball players tell me that young Iverson of the State League is quite a classy boy. Also the same persons vouch that young Enright is a promising boy.

And then, too, there is a pitcher ranging around with the amateurs of this region, named Jenkins, who is said to be quite a likely looking lad.

Why doesn't Van Haltren try some of these boys out? The season is practically at an end, and it would hardly hurt the Oakland's chances, for very few persons believe that the Commuters can finish better than third this season.

Strangely enough such excellent baseball men as Connie Mack, now and then, see something in a youngster, and frequently try green kids out. Artie Hofman of Chicago was taken by the Cub's management practically a raw amateur from the lots of St. Louis. Theodore Breitenstein jumped from an amateur to the major league, so did "Wee Willie" Sudhoff, Hoelsketter and others whom the writer cannot call to mind at the present moment.

Can St. Louis or any other Eastern city produce better ball players than Oakland and San Francisco? We don't believe it. The only difference is that Eastern managers have the saving sense to experiment, while so much cannot be said for some of the Coast League managers. Bigbie will not be with Oakland next season. Someone will have to take his place. Gossip has it that Truck Eagan will likely be the man. If such is the Van Haltren program, why doesn't Van let Eagan practice around the initial bag now, and allow the big fellow to get accustomed to it? It strikes the writer that Eagan would make a good first baseman. He is rather too unwieldy for a shortstop. His great hitting makes him such a valuable man that his fielding shortcomings are overlooked.

And if Eagan is to play first, Oakland will have to secure a new shortfielder. And such being the case, why not comb the State League for an available recruit before going into the East and picking up more peanut vendors like Agur was. Let's try and develop the home product. Give the local lads a chance. Why not?

MESSRS. Flynn and Johnson will hook up at Coffroth's rectory of arms at Ocean View Saturday, and there is more interest manifested in the bout than was commonly supposed would result from the matching of this pair.

Flynn is regarded by all fight followers as a tough fellow whether they have seen him or not. He looks that part admirably well, both mentally and physically. Flynn does not look like a pink tea champion, and the chances are that he will give to Johnson somewhat of an argument.

It cannot be overlooked, however, that Johnson has the fireman at a disadvantage in all the fine and favoring points of the sport. In experience, ringmanship, hitting power, science, reach, weight and general abilities, Johnson far outclasses Flynn. One point only seems to be in Flynn's favor and that is gameness. But that one point is usually of little avail when it is stacked against greater weight, greater punching power and greater science. To our way of looking at it, we think that Flynn will have to render up to Caesar the things that are Caesar's. He may do this reluctantly, but if past performances count for anything the big Galveston Blackamoor should prove the master of the Colorado fireman when they meet Saturday afternoon at Ocean View.

IT IS little wonder that immature university athletes whose brains do not have poise which their education is meant in time to get for them, finds discipline unbearable.

Take a young football player who has not attained his majority, lionize him, and show him his picture in action on the football gridiron, and his head will turn if he is not unusually strong. Too many of the young players in football weigh their own importance and rarely find it lacking. As a result they become careless. This should not be. In athletics, and football and baseball constant diligence is the price of success, and athletes should not let themselves lag in this respect.

OUR London correspondent sends us the following about Gunner Moir. The Gunner is shortly going to take on T. Burns. "'Gunner' is a biggish bit in his fighting togs," he says, "and not half bad all standing. He has a nawsty right, and you'd better have a care about the other one. He is shifty on his trotters and has a nifty way of spilling of the beans when least expected. I haven't the pleasure of Mr. Burns' acquaintance, but I'm laying a bit that 'Gunner' will give an excellent account of himself at the time and place. He can take a bit of grueling, but I fancy he will give as good as is sent. I should baily well advise you to have a bit about him."

Reliance Club Will Give Dance

"I'll see you at the Masque Ball" is an expression frequently heard nowadays wherever throughout the city those who care for dancing are wont to congregate. The added statement that the ball is to be held at Piedmont Pavilion or in other words in the enormous gym of the Reliance Club on Thanksgiving eve, is an incentive that few who really enjoy dancing with the necessary requisites, such as good music, floor and careful management, can withstand. The dance is to be given by the ever popular Eddie Smith and "Fat" Larue, as he is known among his friends and this fact alone should serve to fill the hall as it is well known that nothing these two young men assume to do is ever left half done.

Del Monte Trip Is Abandoned

The proposed trip of the University of California Rugby squad to Del Monte for the week prior to the intercollegiate game will not be taken. This decision was reached last night by the coach and trainer of the squad after it had been learned that the committee appointed by the faculty had disagreed concerning the advisibility of the trip. Although the faculty had not absolutely forbidden the trip, the men in charge of the squad were confident that their final decision would be adverse, and it was decided to anticipate any action on their part by declaring the expedition off.

Trainer Magee said this morning: "Yes, the trip is off. We will practice as best we can on the adobe field here next week. Our main idea in wanting to go to Del Monte was to get a chance to practice on a turf field, such as they have at Stanford, where the big game is to be played. But the faculty, for reasons which they have not made known to the team, could not agree to authorize the trip and we decided to end the discussion by voluntarily remaining in Berkeley. Of course, it will be a handicap for the 'varsity to play on a sod field after all their preliminary practice has been done on the hard adobe here, but we will do the best we can.

RUGBY FOOTBALL IS NOW POPULAR WITH COLLEGIANS

Prejudice Against the So-Called British Game Is No Longer Rampant at California.

BY HOWARD H. McLELLAN.

A great change has come over the football enthusiasts at the University of California. As great is the change as the specie of football now played as compared with the old-time game of ball. It is that Rugby football has really found admiration among the students and bids fair to take the place of the cherished game.

A week before the Stanford-California freshmen game—the first intercollegiate contest on the program—an admirer of Rugby was hard to find. The men were apparently disgusted with the British game. But it has furnished its spectacles; it has made its heroes and has even won admiration among the fair coeds. Now, no better game exists than Rugby.

There is a ton of good in the game. It is as spectacular as the old game. As to its brutality, it is not comparable to the old game—but nevertheless it has its injured men and the first aid corps makes its regular appearances on the field.

Truly enough the introduction of the game on the coast has passed its experimental stage and has won over the men, but unless the rules are strictly obeyed the game is not Rugby football. In the old game, unless a man was "beefy" he was not qualified to play. In Rugby the trim, well-built, tall man can play as well as the short, stocky fellow. Butler of the Blue and Gold squad is a type of the former player. Tall, muscular and energetic, he plays practically the best game. He is blessed with cool-headedness. He is a runner and a kicker—not a tackle. When the pigskin reaches his hands and he seldom misses, it is sure to gain ground for the U. C. team. On the other hand little Dwiggins of the Blue and Gold—short and stocky and a freshman at that—plays a snappy game, but his agility, strength and endurance count, and with Walt Tuller, the captain, the two best rushers are found, while Cerf, Renouf and Budleman, strong men, are relied upon for mass work—for a showing in the scrum plays. They are big men of the old type.

California plays a good game, a fast game and a game strictly within Rugby rules as interpreted by the British Columbia players. They are weak in one or two spots. In the scrum, they are active, the men are watchful, but their strategy has not yet been perfected. This fact was demonstrated by one or two very clever tricks turned by the Vancouver players. Like the old game, the strategy is there in Rugby. As to running there are several fine points that have been brought to the attention of Coach Taylor, or rather points that he has discovered for the benefit of the Blue and Gold standard-bearers.

These points may be considered in such a manner:

In the scrum Vancouver showed dexterity in getting the ball into their quarter back's hands by kicking it backwards through a channel midst the feet of the men lined up in scrum. Before the California scrum makers were upon their feet the ball was in the hands of a running Vancouver man—dangerously so for the opposing team, as the California men were practically out of their positions. This little bit of playing has been adopted by California. If Stanford is as observant they may adopt the play.

In running with the ball the Vancouver men do not skim along the side lines, but take advantage of a mass of men, all intent upon the runner, leaving their post for the extreme man on left or right, and pass through the center of the field practically unmolested. But at this game California runners saved the day.

There is no question that the U. C. men are superior to the Vancouver men in passing the ball while in motion. They seldom miss the pigskin even on long throws. This same feat was practiced to an advantage in the freshman game and left the Cardinal players at a loss to understand where the ball was.

But much remains to be seen from the dopesters standpoint, as to the condition of the two 'varsity teams on November 9. If the Stanford squad is in any way to be compared to its freshman squad, then the chances are slim for a Cardinal victory. California has the best of the two chances.

JOY TAKES THE AIR SHIP AND OAKLAND WINS GAME

Kanaka Pitches Well Until Guy Rope Is Cut and Then Commuters Win the Contest.

Lack of support, combined with the decidedly free and easy manner in which the Commuters touched up B. Joy, made the farewell appearance of the Honolulu star on the home diamond anything but a glittering success. Barney may have entertained visions of winning the contest necessary to cinch second place, but they were speedily dissipated. With the Seals leading by a 3-to-1 score the Oaklanders did the rush act in the sixth and when the final inning was over they were still in front, 5 to 3.

It was not altogether the fault of Joy that his game was lost, although there were times when he showed a deplorable lack of headwork. Nick Williams, who traded places with Charlie Street and was working behind the bat, had hard trouble holding Joy down, and the two passed balls that are charged to his account figured in the run-getting. In loose fielding, however, the two teams had almost an even break, as errors loomed up in the scores that were made by the locals.

After Eagan had scored in the second on a walk, a single by Bigbie and two outs, the Seals came back strong. Irwin should have been struck out, but Sullivan, the new Oakland catcher, failed to hold the ball. A wild pitch put Irwin safely on second, and he was scored by Melchoir's two-bagger. Zeider sacrificed and Melchoir made the second run when Street hit to Smith and the latter dropped the ball, after mis-judging it. Streib forced Street but was himself scored by Joy and his own stolen base.

The upset of the locals came in the sixth. Bigbie opened with a two-base hit. An error by Zeider in handling Haley's ball advanced the runner to third, and he scored on a passed ball, Haley taking second. Devereaux put the ball down toward third, and Haley should have been an easy out, but he dodged Joy, who had the ball waiting for him at the plate. Wright kicked the ball to right for Devereaux' run and the final of the quartet came through when Wright scored from third after Heitmuller flied to left field.

The Seals reached the almost-near stage on one occasion following the sixth, but Deacon Wright kept putting the ball down a groove and struck out seven, all told. The score:

Angels Kalsomine Portland Again

LOS ANGELES, October 31.—Los Angeles shut out Portland again today and scored three runs off the delivery of Ferraris, a "bush league" pitcher from Santa Barbara, who was given a trial by McCredie. Although nine hits were secured by the locals off the young amateur, he made a creditable showing and kept the safe ones well scattered except in the first inning.

Ferraris' first ball caught Bernard in the back and the latter promptly stole second. Carlisle smashed out a triple, scoring Bernard, and Dillon scored Carlisle with a double. Cravath's run in the eighth scored the third when Kennedy dropped a good throw to first and was the only other tally made by Los Angeles in the game.

Portland had opportunities to count in both the sixth and seventh innings, but the men at bat were unable to connect at the critical moments. Donahue was brought in from the field to catch today, while Byrnes went to right. Randolph was a trifle wild, being free with his passes, but held the Beavers to two hits and no score. Results:

Ring Lady Wins the Championship

SALT LAKE, Oct. 31.—Ring Lady, a handsome black and white hound bred by Hardy & Williams of Fairbault, Minn., and owned by Redmon & Elliott of Salt Lake, won the Waterloo cup, symbolic of the coursing championship of the United States here yesterday.

California was represented by On-On Dago in the finals. In the fourth heat Ring Lady beat Clyde of San Francisco, a shapely hound, by a small margin.

Big Battle Will Be at 3 o'Clock

Promoter James W. Coffroth authorizes THE TRIBUNE to announce to its readers, through its columns, that the Flynn-Johnson contest will start promptly at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Coffroth states that the preliminary would start at 2:15, and said that the big fellows would have to show in the ring at 3 p. m. promptly.

Mr. Coffroth declares that there will be no deviation from this announcement and declares that he will see to it that Johnson and Flynn start their battle promptly at the announced time.

Chase Plays Under Assumed Monacher

Hal Chase set at defiance the ruling of the National Baseball Commission last Sunday when he played with the San Jose team of the State League under the name of Schultz. Chase it was learned last night, took the assumed name to dodge complications with the American League, but in baseball circles here it is not believed that the subterfuge will benefit him any.

Chase, it has been learned has not only disobeyed the injunction of the National Commission, but has also waived aside the command of the New York American League team not to play the game.

Chase, it is believed, will suffer for his failure to live up to the edicts of the major league barons of baseball.

WILMERDING WINS GAME

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Wilmerding's juvenile athletes took the measure of the Tiger first year men in a hotly contested athletic meet at the Wilmerding oval by a score of 58 to 51 yesterday afternoon.

The meet was hotly contested throughout and the result was in doubt until the final event of the day, the relay race, which the Wilmerding boys captured in great style. The cinder path was in excellent shape and some excellent performances were noted. The fifty-yard dash furnished the best contest of the meet. O'Hare, Hildebrand and McFalliot finished in the order named, and were so close to each other at the tape that the judges were for a time undecided who had won.

SUPPOSE THE PRIZES HAD BEEN AWARDED YESTERDAY

MISS TIBBETS WOULD GET CAR

Brooklyn Parlor Would Get the Banner.

GABRIEL BRIONES.

$100 CASH PRIZE.

AN EXTRA PRIZE OF $100 IN GOLD WILL BE AWARDED TO THE CANDIDATE WHO, WITH THE AID OF FRIENDS, BRINGS IN THE LARGEST AMOUNT OF MONEY ON PAID-IN-ADVANCE SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, TO SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS PAID IN ADVANCE DURING THIS PERIOD, WHETHER BY CANDIDATES OR THEIR FRIENDS, WILL BE CREDITED IN FAVOR OF A CANDIDATE AS REQUESTED.

THE VOTES ISSUED ON THESE SUBSCRIPTIONS CAN BE VOTED AT ANY TIME, OR HELD AND VOTED ON THE LAST NIGHT OF THE CONTEST IF DESIRED.

AT NO TIME DURING THE CONTEST WILL ANY MORE DOUBLE VOTES BE ISSUED OR WILL ANY SPECIAL VOTE OFFER BE MADE.

THIS IS AN EXCELLENT CHANCE TO GET $100 IN EASY MONEY.

Suppose the great $10,000 prize contest of THE TRIBUNE had closed with the count in yesterday's paper—and for the sake of contestants with weak hearts let it be understood here and now that it did not—a whole lot of candidates who may or may not be the winners in the end would have secured the valuable prizes.

If we take the vote in yesterday's TRIBUNE the result would have given heart failure to some candidates who are so sure of winning in the end. But after all, it would not be an impossibility for the final result to be the same as yesterday's, which would give the prizes to the following.

Miss Birdie Tibbetts having the greatest number of votes would be the proud possessor of the Rambler touring car, defeating J. T. Feeley by 32,800 votes, and leaving E. C. Hahn, Charles F. Jennings and C. T. Ford out of the running.

MRS. WINNIE DORMAN.

Mrs. Winnie Dorman would get the $750 lot to be given to the most popular woman, and Mrs. W. K. Slater would have a week's trip to Los Angeles at the expense of THE TRIBUNE.

Miss Lillian Sullivan would have a fine $625 Chickering piano to add to her home.

Miss Ethel Clark would be the Berkeley young lady who would have victory rewarded by a $500 Bruenn piano.

Miss Bessie Vieira would get the piano in District No. 3, as Miss Tibbetts got the automobile.

Mrs. H. Bruegger of Monterey would get a $500 piano for very little work.

GEORGE E. MANES.

George E. Manes, the popular union man, would have a $1100 lot on which to build his home.

William A. Martin, the popular Berkeley letter carrier, would get a $500 lot, and Walter C. Frost would be rewarded by a trip to Los Angeles.

Jim Sullivan of Petaluma would own a fine lot in Richmond.

George P. Collyer, the well known letter carrier, would have a $1050 lot in the Fourth Avenue Terrace tract, while M. J. King would be able to always tell the time of day with his $100 watch.

BROOKLYN PARLOR.

Brooklyn Parlor, Native Sons, would have a $250 banner, and not an automobile to sell.

Camp Liscum, Spanish War Veterans, would get the second prize of a $100 banner.

Mrs. R. H. Hammond would get a trip to Chicago, and Mrs. C. B. Lee would get a $55 sewing machine.

Mrs. Westerman of Berkeley, Mrs. Stone of Fruitvale and Mrs. Shaw of Alameda would also get sewing machines.

Charles T. Ford would have a fine time in Los Angeles for two weeks at the expense of THE TRIBUNE.

JAMES T. FEELEY.

James T. Feeley would not ride in an automobile, but on the train to Chicago, while E. C. Hahn would have to count crossties.

W. C. Bramstedt would be able to tell the O. T. boys the correct time.

Miss Evelyn Sherow would be the possessor of a $100 Fox typewriter.

D. J. Toomey, as he sped on his way to Chicago, would give the high sign to William Cross.

Charles F. Jennings, instead of having an automobile, would have a $100 Howard watch to console him.

DAVE KENNEDY.

Dave Kennedy and George Creed would have the choice of a trip to Portland or Los Angeles.

Phillips Lewis, Roy Chandler, Frank Phillips, Elmer Smith and Willie Sherbourne would then own fine bicycles.

Miss Helen Nickals would have a grand time for two weeks at the Sentinel Hotel, Yosemite Valley.

GABRIEL BRIONES.

The boys in the district west of Grove street have a new competitor to meet in the person of Gabriel Briones, a hustling messenger boy of the Western Union Telegraph Company, who wants a bicycle. Gabriel has plenty of energy and will give the other candidates a lively race.

COUPONS IN PACKAGES.

The vote coupons must be tied in packages or placed in envelopes. It is impossible to count thousands of coupons dropped loosely in the box.

MANNER OF VOTING.

A coupon good for one vote will be published in each issue of THE TRIBUNE until the end of the contest. This coupon, if clipped and sent to the Contest Manager of THE TRIBUNE, will count as one vote for the contestant named therein.

There is another and better way of securing votes and that is on subscriptions. Votes will be given on all paid-in-advance subscriptions as follows:

Three months, $1.95	100 extra votes
Six months, $3.90	300 extra votes
One year, $7.80	1000 extra votes
Two years $15.60	3000 extra votes
Three years, $23.40	5000 extra votes

Three hundred votes are also issued on a classified advertisement coupon book, which contains coupons worth $2.50, but sells for only $2.

CLASSIFIED AD COUPONS.

An innovation in voting contests is the issuing of votes on classified advertisements. A coupon book containing coupons to the value of $2.50 is sold for $2. This is a saving of 20 cents on each dollar, and will prove a great investment for those who advertise. Classified advertisements are such as "Help Wanted," "For Sale," "Rooms to Rent," etc. These classified advertisement coupons can be used at the time the books are bought or at a later date as may be desired.

Help Him

Ask your doctor if there is one single injurious thing in Ayer's Hair Vigor. Formula published everywhere.

A very delicate matter, to be sure, but do you think your husband is as good looking as he ought to be? Help him out! Offer to buy him a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor if he will only use it. Removes dandruff, keeps the hair soft and smooth, gives the proper finish to the general make-up. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

A Message to High School Scholars—Whether Boys or Girls

You are naturally particular about your appearance and undoubtedly spend considerable more in the purchase of new clothing than is necessary. Many a time your clothes are wrinkled and spotted, and you believe they cannot be made to look like new goods, therefore you discard them, when, if sent here, for less than one-tenth of the price of a new suit or dress you could have the same effect and be far the richer in consequence.

There are two reasons for our success in Oakland, viz: 50 years' experience in this line in San Francisco. The largest and most complete plant on the coast, with machinery and facilities unknown to other like concerns.

Ladies' and gentlemen's clothing cleaned and dyed like new. Several wagons and two automobiles constitute our excellent calling and delivery service anywhere in Oakland, Alameda or Berkeley. Surely

THAW TRIAL DECEMBER 2

Defense Expect to Once More Put Forward Plea of Insanity.

NEW YORK, Oct 31—Announcement was made today that insanity is to be the plea in the defense of Harry Kendall Thaw, whose second trial for the slaying of Stanford White will begin on December 2.

Martin W Littleton chief counsel for Thaw it is stated has decided on the course. He is said to be convinced that Thaw is insane and has not adopted this course as merely a theory on which to conduct a successful defense but because he feels certain of the unsound mental condition of his client.

Ever since he took charge of the case it is said Littleton has given the question of Thaw's mentality careful consideration. He has traced the Thaw family tree and decided that the insanity of Thaw may have been an inheritance. In this connection it is recalled that Mrs William Thaw mother of the accused emphatically denied during the last trial that in the direct line of decent there had been any trace of either epilepsy or insanity.

Seven alienists testified however that Thaw in their opinion was insane and had been insane for some years. Much testimony along this line was brought out in the trial which reached a climax when District Attorney Jerome gave his opinion that he was trying an insane man and that he felt that it was wrong to proceed with the trial under these circumstances.

THE LEADING SPECIALISTS FOR MEN

Appeal to Your Reason WEAK MEN

YOUNG MIDDLE-AGED OLD

ARE YOU SUFFERING FROM ANY PRIVATE DISEASE?

TAKE WARNING! and BE JUST to YOURSELF

AT the first sign of any contracted disorder you should seek the services of THOROUGHLY RELIABLE SPECIALISTS, GRADUTED FROM MEDICAL COLLEGES AND WHO ARE RECOGNIZED BY THE PROFESSION AND COMMUNITY AS SUCH. You will be an old weak man when you should be FULL OF VIGOR and PERFECT MANHOOD

WE claim to AND DO offer a distinct class of service solely our own to men who are suffering in any way FROM ANY TROUBLE WHATEVER. Each member of the faculty has been selected for his excellence in his particular line of work. All the members of the staff are well known to the people of Oakland and vicinity as

The MASTERS of MEN'S DISEASES

By our methods we are enabled to reach the vital spot with our direct treatment which drives every disease germ from the system by going to the root of the disorder. WE INVARIABLY obtain prompt and satisfactory results because our searching examination brings to light the nature and extent of the trouble.

TAKE SEXUAL WEAKNESS FOR EXAMPLE

In treating this very prevalent form of lost vigor we offer a method which is so superior to any other mode now being employed by the would be specialists that there is no comparison possible. We neither dose the system with drugs nor do we sell useless appliances. By our system full vigor and power are quickly restored and the cure when once made is PERFECT and PERMANENT. The sweet sense of full and vigorous satisfaction is once more felt AND IT REMAINS

OUR CURES ARE POSITIVE, COMPLETE, THOROUGH AND PERMANENT BECAUSE BY OUR METHODS THE REAL AND ONLY CAUSE OF FUNCTIONAL WEAKNESS IS TOTALLY REMOVED. THE KNOWLEDGE GAINED BY CLOSE STUDY AND OBSERVATION IN THOUSANDS OF CASES ENABLES US TO RECOGNIZE THE EXACT REQUIREMENTS AND TREAT ACCORDINGLY, AND IN YEARS WE HAVE NOT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE TO ACCOMPLISH THE DESIRED RESULTS

SPECIFIC BLOOD POISON (SYPHILIS)

NEVER permit yourself to be treated by anyone but a PERFECTLY COMPETENT and HONEST physician if you at all suspect that you are suffering from any form of specific blood poison. If you have what is termed the inoculating sore—a chancre—run away from the quack as you would from CERTAIN DEATH. The usual method employed by these ENEMIES TO LIFE is to dry up the CHANCRE but let THE POISON REMAIN IN THE BLOOD. What does this mean? It means nothing more—nothing less—than living death. If you have even a suspicion that you are infected come for free examination. We drive the very last taint of virus out of your system—we leave our patients thoroughly purified. If you could but see some of the TERRIBLE CASES we are compelled to treat from day to day you would not wonder at our earnestness in this matter.

NO DISEASE so thoroughly permeates every fibre of the human body as syphilis. It may be hereditary or contracted. We regard our successful treatment of syphilis as the crowning triumph of a professional career of which we are justly proud. We employ no harmful or dangerous drugs. The remedies we use are used by no other physician employed in the treatment of this disease. They drive the very last taint from the system. Every symptom of syphilis vanishes to appear no more. The blood is thoroughly cleansed and the patient becomes a clean strong vigorous and healthy man. You cannot afford to take A SINGLE CHANCE with this leprous disease.

COAST AD MEN TO MEET HERE

Local Organization Makes Preparations for Entertainment of Delegates.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ad Club, held last night in the directors' office of the Chamber of Commerce, it was unanimously decided to hold the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association on January 20, 21 and 22. There will be an entertainment, reception and banquet.

Committees were appointed and arrangements planned to properly receive the many delegates that are expected from all over the west. The banquet will probably be given in the new St. Mark's hotel. Covers will be laid for 250 guests. Besides the mayors from Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, efforts will be made to have Governor Gillette present.

PLEASURE TRIPS.

After the business session, which will take place on the first day, the delegates will be given opportunity to see the many points of interest. Besides trolley rides to Berkeley, Hayward and Alameda, an all days' trip will be taken on San Francisco bay, visiting Mare Island, U. S. Navy Yards, Union Iron Works, Alcatraz Island, U. S. Training School on Goat Island and other places.

The members of the club are leaving nothing undone in their preparations to boost along at the convention their own body and the City of Oakland.

Those on the banquet committee are S. W. Volberg, chairman; R. A. Russel, secretary of the 50,000 Club of Alameda; S. W. Booth, G. A. Fisher and Wilber Walker.

ASK ADVICE.

N. G. Hyatt, secretary of the Ad Club has received a communication from Eastern establishments asking that signed articles on the advertising conditions around San Francisco bay be sent them so they can publish true and accurate accounts of the present position of Oakland and neighboring cities. The work of describing the commercial and industrial situation was assigned to J. C. Brown.

LOCAL TOPICS.

The meeting was called to order by President G. C. Bainhart. After roll call and the reading of minutes of the previous meeting, reports from the different officers were read and acted upon. It was announced that the December issue of the Mertz magazine will be devoted especially to Oakland. The following articles will appear in that number: "How Oakland Proposes to Entertain the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association," by Edwin Stearns; "How Oakland Ad Club Did It, the Reason of Their Success," N. G. Hyatt; "Why the Ad Men Profit in Attending a Convention," N. N. Eddy; "The Wonderful Growth of Oakland—the Ideal Convention City," W. T. Vollberg; "The Part That San Francisco Proposes to Take in the Oakland Convention," L. Johnson; "The National Significance of the Coming Oakland Convention," G. C. Bainhart.

G. E. Newton, C. Leidecker, Sam Meyers and M. F. Ganique applied for membership and were admitted by unanimous vote.

WOMAN AT TELEPHONE CAUSE OF DIVORCE

Lulu Ghilleri was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce yesterday afternoon from George Ghilleri upon the ground of extreme cruelty. She claimed that at one time a woman asked for Ghilleri over the telephone and she informed the woman that Mrs. Ghilleri was talking. Ghilleri was present and when he heard his remark it is claimed he ran to the telephone and pushed his wife away. He then told the caller, according to the wife's story, that "an old thing had butted in." It was held that this instance of misconduct and similar examples were sufficient grounds for divorce.

OTHER CASES.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers was awarded a decree from Richard Rogers for cruelty. Helen Britzhoff filed suit for divorce against John A. Britzhoff, alleging desertion.

That the term for which said franchise or privilege is to be granted is fifty (50) years, and that the route to be traversed by said street railroad is that above set forth and particularly described:

And notice is further given that sealed bids for said franchise will be received up to the hour of twelve (12) o'clock M. on Thursday, the Fifth day of December, A.D. 1907, and must be filed with the City Clerk of said City of Piedmont at his office in the office of the Piedmont Development Company near the main entrance to Piedmont Park, and adjoining the Piedmont Club House, in said City of Piedmont, and that upon Thursday, the Fifth day of December, A.D. 1907, at the hour of eight o'clock P. M. the said Board of Trustees will meet at the office of the Piedmont Development Company near the main entrance to Piedmont Park, and adjoining the Piedmont Club House, in said City of Piedmont in open session, and will then and there open and read said bids; and that thereupon said franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation, who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, PROVIDED, ONLY, that at the time of the opening of said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented may bid for said franchise or privilege a sum not less than ten per cent above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold, and awarded by said Board of Trustees to the highest bidder therefor in Gold Coin of the United States. Each sealed bid shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check, payable to the treasurer of said City of Piedmont, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder shall deposit, at least, ten per cent of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of said City of Piedmont before the franchise shall be struck off to him. And if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, then and in that case, his bid shall not be received, and shall be considered as void, and the said franchise shall then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit, as above mentioned. Said procedure shall be had until said franchise is struck off, sold, and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of, at least, ten per cent of the amount of his bid therefor, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the Clerk of said City of Piedmont, within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid, the remaining ninety per cent of the amount thereof, and in case he or it shall fail to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made shall be forfeited, and the said award of said franchise shall be void, and the said franchise shall then and there by said Board of Trustees, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner, and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder shall fail to deposit with the Clerk of said City of Piedmont the remaining ninety per cent of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise shall be set aside and the deposit theretofore made by him shall be forfeited, and no further proceedings for a sale of said franchise shall be had unless the same shall be readvertised and again offered for sale, in the manner hereinbefore provided:

The said Board of Trustees will exact and require from the successful bidder for said franchise a satisfactory promise and undertaking to permit and allow mail carriers in the employ of the United States Government, at all times while engaged in the actual discharge of duty, to ride on the cars of the street railroad authorized thereby without paying any sum of money whatever for fare or otherwise, and such promise and undertaking on the part of such successful bidder will be made a condition precedent to the granting of the aforesaid franchise:

The successful bidder and his assigns must during the life of said franchise pay to the City of Piedmont two per cent (2 per cent) of the gross annual receipts of the person, partnership or corporation to whom the franchise is awarded, arising from its use, operation or possession. No percentage shall be paid for the first five (5) years succeeding the date of the franchise but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually; and in the event said payment is not made said franchise shall be forfeited:

The successful bidder for said franchise shall file a bond running to said City of Piedmont with at least two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said Board of Trustees, in the penal sum of $5,000.00, conditioned that such bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of the said penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. Said bond shall be filed with said Board of Trustees within five days after such franchise is awarded, and upon the filing and approval of such bond, the said franchise shall by said Board of Trustees, be granted by ordinance to the person, firm or corporation to whom it has been struck off, sold or awarded, and in case that said bond shall not be so filed, the award of such franchise shall be set aside, and any money paid therefor shall be forfeited and said franchise shall, in the discretion of said Board of Trustees, be readvertised and again offered for sale in the same manner, and under the same restrictions, as hereinbefore provided:

Notice is hereby further given that said franchise will be granted upon the following terms, conditions and restrictions in addition to the terms, conditions and restrictions required or imposed by law, to-wit:

First. Subject to unavoidable delays and casualties, cars for the conveyance of passengers must be operated in each direction over said street railroad between the hours of seven (7) a.m. and seven (7) p.m. of each day at intervals of not more than ten (10) minutes, and between the hours of seven (7) p.m. and twelve (12) p.m. of each day at intervals of not more than twenty (20) minutes:

Second. All street work required by law to be done by the grantee or grantees of said franchise his, its or their successors or assigns, must be done with the same kind of material at the same time and in the same manner as the remainder in width of the aforesaid streets:

Third. All trolley poles used in said streets in the construction of said street railroad must be located on the sidewalks immediately adjoining the curb and must be of iron and of the most approved pattern for street railroad purposes; and the said poles and all wires used in connection with the exercise of the said franchise must be of sufficient height and elevation above the ground to avoid obstruction to the ordinary use of the streets:

Fourth. HOUSEHOLD LOAN COMPANY
Room 3 Macdonough Bldg., cor. 14th & B'dway

WHY WE GET THE BUSINESS.
We do the largest business in this line in Oakland.
WE KNOW WHY.
Our policy has always been to treat a man so fairly, so courteously and considerately that when he needs money he thinks of but one company—HOUSEHOLD.
We could fill columns of valuable space with inaccurate rate tables and unbusinesslike promises.
BUT WE WON'T DO IT.
That's not honest.
Our rates are as low as those of any company, regardless of what they advertise, and we never say $5 when we mean $10 and later tack on "extras" to make up the difference.
If you like a straight-from-the-shoulder business treatment, have a talk with us.
We make loans on furniture, pianos, horses and carriages, warehouse receipts and other securities without publicity or inquiries from friends. Call and see us, as we will give you all the information you wish free of charge. Remember the name and address and the court was to rule on the matter this morning.

COURT IS CROWDED.

Louis Glass, Eugene E. Schmitz, Trey L. Ford, William M. Abbott, Porter Ashe, Patrick Calhoun, A. A. Moore and Stanley Moore, Earl Rogers, Louis Byington, and Louis Ford, son of the defendant, filled the pews occupied by the defense when court was called to order. Schmitz, more wan than formerly, conversed with Attorney O'Connor, who came in later. Ford introduced his son Lopis to the ex-mayor, who shook hands with the lad, and hoped the boy would prove as illustrious as his father. Louis Glass, as impassive as ever, said nothing, ignoring the jests and conferences going on around him.

The prosecution was represented by Heney, Burns, O'Gara, and Heney's law partner, Cobb. The court room was well filled some time before the morning session began. Catherine Byington, Ford's sister-in-law, and Relda Ford, eldest daughter of the defendant, and Mrs. William M. Abbott, were early arrivals. All were clad in smart gowns and picture hats, which gave a touch of color to the somber court room.

Judge Lawlor last night instructed the sheriff not to bring the jury to court until 10 o'clock, although he had ordered the argument over Abbott's testimony to be continued at 9:30 o'clock.

The table of the prosecutors was covered with an imposing array of law books, which gave the impression that a small law library had been moved into the court room. The defense also was equipped with many lengthy legal briefs bearing on the case and law books for reference. The defense considers the attempt to force Abbott to testify, when he is a codefendant, as an effort to pervert the ends of justice and take from a citizen of the United States the legal rights. With this theory in view they came prepared to contest the case to the last degree.

At 9:45 o'clock Judge Lawlor announced that today had been set aside as a legal holiday by the Governor and that he would like to hear suggestions on this point from the different sides. Heney stated he was anxious to proceed with the trial. Judge Lawlor stated that the was not sure of the wording of the Governor's proclamation, as to whether the wording made the day a legal or public holiday.

"Well, it must be a public holiday. I never heard of a private holiday," said O'Gara.

O'Gara further stated that this point had come up before and that Judge Ogden, in Oakland, had refrained from holding court after the fire when the Governor had proclaimed a legal holiday. He then read a section of the code of civil procedure covering this point. He also cited a case that had been tried on a legal holiday, although with the consent of both parties, but which the Supreme Court had held was no trial, and the defendants had gained their liberty on a writ of habeas corpus.

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION.

Stanley Moore stated that the defense had not looked into the case, but that they were of the opinion that it was a question of jurisdiction, and thought that the case should be postponed. He argued that the defense had sought to rush the trial as much as possible, but as this was a question of jurisdiction and a delicate matter, it was well to look into it carefully.

Heney stated this was his view of the matter also, and he also thanked the defense for the aid they had rendered in expediting the case. Judge Lawlor then instructed the sheriff to bring in the jury and stated to the jurors that the court took judicial notice of the proclamation of the Governor of the State, proclaiming a legal holiday. He then read the Governor's proclamation. He also read the section in the code of court procedure covering this point.

He then stated that in view of the proclamation court would be adjourned until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Judge Lawlor then called the case of Louis Glass, Schmitz, Ruef, Mullally, Calhoun, Abbott, and the other cases and ordered them continued until 11:30 o'clock Friday, November 1.

Chanler in Libel Suit Admits Presence at "Blackbird Pie" Dinner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. — William Astor Chanler, who has complained to District Attorney Jerome that he was criminally libeled in connection with the blackmailing charges made by Actor Raymond Hitchcock, was the first witness cross-examined yesterday afternoon when the case of the State against William Randolph Hearst was called before Justice William F. Wyatt in the Court of Special Sessions.

Chanler denied that he had ever seen or been in the company of little Elsie Weeks and Helen von Hagen, whose names are mentioned in the "Evening Journal" article of which complaint was made.

Cross-examination brought out that Chanler was on friendly terms with Actor Hitchcock who was indicted today on six serious felony charges.

PROUD OF IT.

He declared he was proud of his friendship for Stanford White, the architect who was shot by Harry Thaw, and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Garvan admitted the statement that Chanler had attended the famous "blackbird pie" dinner was true.

"Were you a friend of Stanford White?" was asked.

"I am happy to say I was," returned Chanler.

He testified that he had attended parties in Stanford White's studio in Madison Square Garden. There followed some quibbling over the "blackbird pie" dinner. Shearn finally got the question to suit the witness by putting it thus:

"Were you at a dinner at which Stanford White was present at which any young girls emerged from a pie on the table at any stage of the proceedings?"

WITH FORTY OTHERS.

"I was present with forty others," Chanler answered, "at the so-called dinner."

He was asked if he had had any talk with Mr. Hitchcock in the week preceding the publication.

"I have forgotten the date," he replied, "but I recollect it was Friday or Saturday before the publication came out that Mr. Hitchcock said he was on the track of those blackmailers and that he had given them his rings for the purpose of having them come back the next day and catch them. And he said my name was mentioned."

"Had he spoken to you before about the blackmailers?"

"Yes, two or three weeks before he said they were trying to track them because they were trying to get money from him."

Chanler testified that recently he saw Hitchcock three or four times a week. The actor had dined once recently at Chanler's house. The court adjourned the hearing until November 6.

ACTOR FLEES FROM CHARGES

Raymond Hitchcock Vanishes, Evidently Fearing to Face Six Felony Indictments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—With the six indictments for felonious charges brought by little girls hanging over him, menaced by the possibility of sixty years in prison, Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, suddenly vanished yesterday. Up to a late hour last night no trace of him had been found, though his wife, his lawyer, private detectives and the bondsmen who guaranteed his appearance in court today searched the city from end to end.

The wife declared she believed her husband had been murdered; his lawyer said he had been spirited away or met with foul play, the management of the Astor Theater, where Hitchcock failed to appear for either matinee or night performance announced that the actor had fled to Europe, and his friends mentioned the fear that driven crazy by the disclosures of the last few days, he had committed suicide.

SIX INDICTMENTS.

Hitchcock disappeared less than three hours before the grand jury filed at 1 p. m. true bills containing six indictments.

The actor's wife says that the last time she saw anything of him was at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when he arose with haggard face in his apartments in the Hotel Flanders and went out, saying that he was going to a nearby Turkish bathhouse and would return directly.

The matinee in the theater went on without Hitchcock. His wife, who is Flora Seabelle, and plays the part of 'Grace Whitney,' literally staggered through her part.

USE WIRELESS

Somehow the manager of the theater got word that Hitchcock had determined to flee from the prospect of punishment and was aboard the White Star line steamer Majestic, which sailed for England early in the afternoon. Detectives failed to find him either there or on the ship.

Not wholly convinced that he had not boarded the Majestic after all just before her departure for Europe, steps were taken to discover by wireless, if possible, whether Hitchcock did succeed in getting aboard.

Mrs. Hitchcock, to whom the actor was married two years ago in St. Louis, is the daughter of Dr. Mannasardan, an Armenian of Chicago, a lecturer on Oriental customs.

As a result of Hitchcock's disappearance Wallace Berry, a young Western actor who has been his understudy, has been given the leading role in the popular Broadway piece at a single bound and is likely to keep the place.

Hitchcock is under $500 bail to appear in court today to answer a charge of criminal assault, upon which he was arrested several days ago. No trace of him had been found up to the hour at which he was to have been in court; however, although the search for him continued steadily throughout the night and morning, one effect another of the theories which has been advanced, as to what has become of Hitchcock after his sudden disappearance yesterday, are being run down on the police and detectives. One of the best of these to be exploded was that he took passage on the steamer Majestic for Europe yesterday. Hitchcock's name was not on the passenger list and the officials of the line said they had apparently no reason to believe that he was one of the Majestic's passengers.

WIFE PROSTRATED.

Flora Seabelle, the missing actor's wife, who has a part in the "Yankee Tourist" company in which Hitchcock has been starring, was completely exhausted today as the result of the strain of the last twenty-four hours. Despite the fact that she was apparently on the verge of a breakdown she went through her part in the afternoon and evening performance of the "Yankee Tourist." After the close of the performance, Mrs. Hitchcock remained up all night, assisting in directing the search for her husband. She will not listen to any theory which included flight, insisting that she believes he has been the victim of foul play. In support of her contention she declares that Hitchcock made absolutely no preparations for flight, as he had only a few dollars in money and two or three rings with him when he left the hotel yesterday morning.

FRANCE WILL AID LONDON MARKET

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The Bank of France today indirectly gave out the following statement:

"In regard to rumors current that the Bank of France is disposed to remit to London or New York $3,000,000 against sterling bills, as it did last year, it can be authoritatively stated that no formal request of this nature has reached the Bank of France from London. At the same time it can be stated that should such an appeal be received the Bank of France, inspired by the common interests of the two countries, would not hesitate to come to the aid of the London market.

"So far as New York is concerned, the information here is that the necessity for gold is less pressing."

[BO]NANZA ORE AT RAWHIDE

Oct. 31.—From an assay taken on a [illegible] struck in the Grutt brothers' lease [illegible] at Rawhide, the returns showed [as] follows: Gold, 972 ounces; silver, [illegible] ounces; total value, $20,104.08. From [illegible] they are now sacking ore running [illegible] pound, and have $2500 worth sacked ready for shipment. From four assays from the surface of their lease on the [illegible], the following values were obtained: $12.70, $324.72, $37.16 and $588.68. [Ha]ve just begun development on this lease. [A] few leases have recently been given [on the] Dunning and Grutt properties. On the [illegible] the property of C. C. Dunaine, and adjoins the townsite, seven leases have been let and a large number of other applications are on file. Several are also working on the Dunning group of five claims which are just below the Rawhide. The showing on these claims is flattering.

The Owl group of five claims, the property of [illegible] A. Rosebury, has been bonded for $50,-[000]. A handsome cash payment has been made on it.

Anderson and Hughes are pushing work on their lease on this property with all speed and have a quantity of high-grade ore sacked, while an immense dump of high grade milling stuff is piled up for future treatment.

A rich strike was this week made on the [illegible] Dun and Tray, the Grutt Brothers' lease on the Baboon claim.

PREDICTS BIG COPPER CAMP

RENO, Nov. 1.—E. D. Payne of Denver has arrived in Reno from Buckskin, where he has been making an examination of the camp.

It is Payne's conviction that Buckskin is not only primarily a copper camp, but one of the greatest copper camps in the country. He believes that the copper mines of Buckskin are equal to the best.

He is particularly enthusiastic about the prospects of the Union Blue, the ore of which will rival that of the famous Ludwig for richness. He brought a number of samples from this property with him.

The Honest Endeavor group, which adjoins the Union Blue, is another property from which he believes great returns will be realized. On this property there is a 100-foot shaft and they are just breaking into a body of sulphides. In sinking this shaft a body of ore was encountered that will go $06 to the ton.

The ore which Payne brought with him was unusually rich, and amply bore out his claims as to the value of Buckskin rock.

He left for Oakland but expects to return to Buckskin in a few days to take an active personal interest in the doings of that camp.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, October 31.—Opening price changes in stocks were mixed but wide gains and transactions generally were small. International Pump fell 2 points, New York Central and Union Pacific 1 and Pennsylvania ¾. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western sold at an advance of 30 points over yesterday's sale, with full recovery of the decline represented by the sale. National Lead preferred rose 1¾, Toledo, St. Louis and Western preferred 1¼, Reading and Distillers' Securities 1 and Denver and Rio Grande, Brooklyn Transit and American Car large fractions.

There was a decline of 4¾ in United States Pipe preferred, 3 in St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred and 1 in American Smelting.

Liberal purchasing orders were then placed in the leading stocks and when they began to rise vigorously the minor stocks also developed strength. Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis preferred gained 5, Missouri Pacific ¾, New York, Chicago and St. Louis second preferred and Great Northern Ore Certificates 2½, Canadian Pacific 2¼, Union Pacific 2¼, Northwestern and National Biscuit 2, Reading 1¾, Southern Pacific preferred and Central Leather preferred 1½ and St. Paul, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, National Lead and Tennessee Copper 1.

NEW YORK, October 31.—The first prices of stocks showed a tendency toward a reaction at some points from yesterday's buoyant closing. Some stocks showed sharp advances but the volume of transactions was small. Hocking Valley preferred sold at a decline of 15 points from the price of the preceding sale three weeks ago. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western sold at 400, a recovery of yesterday's 30-point decline. National Biscuit was up 2. National Lead preferred 1¾, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred and Toledo, St. Louis and Western 1¾ and Reading, Manhattan and Distillers' Securities 1.

Prices moved toward recovery at the first few minutes and the opening declines were mostly wiped out of the course of the first half hours' operation. Canadian Pacific rose 1¾, over last night. United States Pipe preferred sold at a decline of 3½. Call money was offered for loans at 40 per cent on the stock exchange at 10:40 a. m., but found no borrowers.

The rise was checked by active selling of Pennsylvania, which carried it 1⅝ under last night and a reaction in sympathy ran from 2 to 2½ in active stocks. The previous advances had reached 3 to 3¾ in Illinois Central, Union Pacific preferred, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, National Lead preferred and United States Rubber second preferred, 2 to 2¾ in United States Rubber, Southern Pacific preferred and Northern Corn Products preferred. New Haven dropped 5⅜, Federal Mining preferred 4, Sugar 1⅜, International Paper preferred 1½ and Mexican Central 1.

Bonds were irregular.

Selling orders increased and the average level of prices fell to below the opening. Persistent liquidation of Pennsylvania coupled with the decline in St. Paul and New York Central discouraged buying.

American Sugar yielded 2⅜, Pennsylvania 2½, St. Paul 2, American Smelting 1¾, New York Central and Atchison preferred 1½, North Pacific 1¼ and Amalgamated Copper, Western Union and American Tobacco preferred 1. The market closed irregular.

SPLENDID NEW CAFE TO OPEN

Another Handsome Attraction Added to Twelfth Street Business.

The handsome new cafe just installed by Owens & Starr, late of San Francisco, and for several years owners of large cafes in that city, is ready for the patronage of the public. Friday and Saturday have been selected by the management as days for the general inspection by the public. The cafe which is one of the most artistic on the coast, has been installed at much expense, and is the product of the best woodworkers and painters in Oakland. This cafe will be operated in conjunction with the grill, which has been liberally patronized since opening in July, 1906. Owens & Starr are deserving of commendation for the confidence they have shown Greater Oakland by installing such a creditable place. The crowded condition of their place continuously night and day is a living testimony to the quality of service there given. The location at 468 Twelfth street is very central, being very near Broadway and under the Stock and Bond Exchange.

CLEWS BLAMES SPECULATORS

Trust Companies Also Come in for Share of Severe Criticism.

NEW YORK, October 31.—The past few days have been memorable ones in the financial history of New York. Never has liquidation on such a drastic and extensive scale been so successfully met and panic seems to have been successfully restricted. For this the clearing house committee, Secretary Cortelyou, and a small group of great financial leaders must be chiefly thanked. By clear-headed, courageous, and decisive action they have undoubtedly averted a financial cataclysm. There is in consequence the best of reason for believing that the worst is now over.

This does not mean that liquidation is ended. On the contrary, the tremendous contraction which has been endured in the financial district threatens to extend with more or less severity throughout the whole country. The full consequences of what has taken place in the last few days cannot yet be clearly foreseen, but from now on the liquidation promises to be conducted in an orderly fashion and the country saved from unnecessary loss and disaster by foolish panic. The men who have stepped into the breach to stay the tide of apprehension are entitled to the strongest thanks, not only of the financial community, but of the entire country.

Especially wise was the determination of the clearing house committee to eliminate the speculative element from the banking situation. The first step was to restore confidence in the banks. As long as these remained sound and solvent the crisis was certain to soon pass over. It is the speculative element in the banking situation which has been largely responsible for the present demoralization. Some of our banks and trust companies had fallen under the domination of promoters and speculators, who had neither knowledge nor experience regarding sound banking methods, and had no better object in view than to use these institutions for exploiting their own questionable operations.

Absolute elimination of speculators from the directorates of our banks and our trust companies is a prime essential to the restoration of confidence, and fortunately this fact seems to be recognized by both the clearing house committee and the great bankers upon whom control of the situation has fallen.

Banking reform, however, should not rest here. Our banks should restrict their operations more strictly to the legitimate functions of banking. They should be free of all suspicious alliances; corporate influences should be closely guarded against; sound principles should be faithfully adhered to, and higher standards of integrity in management should be insisted upon by a plainly expressed public opinion. Depositors have it in their power to stimulate reform by showing their preference for institutions controlled by men of unquestionable ability and integrity; placing their funds only where sound banking and high standards of conduct are the first consideration.

But reform must not be confined to the banks. The trust companies have thus far escaped many of the restraints which have tended to safety in the banks; and it is just there where lies the weakest spot in the situation. Trust companies are lacking in any such association as the clearing house, which not only secures valuable co-operation in times of emergency, but also exercises a wholesome and necessary restraint upon their regular operations.

Confidence in clearing house banks is strengthened, not so much by the periodic visits of the national bank examiners as by the unexpected visits of the association's own examiners, which act as a continuous safeguard and keep its members closely informed as to the general soundness of each institution. The trust companies have no such organization. To a very considerable extent their operations are a mystery, and the occasional visits of the State examiners are generally anticipated and prepared for.

SHOULD ORGANIZE.

The trust companies of New York should organize themselves as closely as possible upon the lines of the New York clearing house. They should appoint competent examiners and arrange to have them visit different offices when least expected. Then the trust companies would themselves have a better knowledge of their general condition, and be better able to give assistance in times of stress to those who are sound, or to withhold it from those which were unsound. Such an association as this might have prevented the present crisis.

Among the reforms which may be necessary in banking, none are more urgent than in the trust company situation, and the sooner steps in this direction are taken, the sooner will public confidence in these institutions be restored. Trust company competition with the banks is now upon an unfair and unsound basis, and the banks are justly weary of taking care of their rivals whenever they get into difficulties.

STOCK MARKET.

The stock market stood up splendidly against the recent storm. Fortunately, liquidation in the security markets has strengthened the market against further attacks. There is now no room for panic. The effect of this collapse has no doubt reached the climax in financial circles, and it now remains to be seen what the effects will be in industrial and mercantile circles.

It is not to be supposed that the process of readjustment is complete. It is likely to go on for some time to come. Probably some recovery may ensue later on in the security markets, but the fact that we have fairly entered into an era of business reaction may as well be accepted. Contraction must follow, and if commercial embarrassments multiply they must be accepted philosophically as a part of the general reaction.

Prices in the commodities' markets will now have to take their share of the decline. Extravagance will cease and economy will become the order of the day. New enterprises will be suspended for some time to come and there will be a lessened demand for both commodities and labor. This part of the process of readjustment will be unwelcome, but it is inevitable and is the only way for a substantial re-establishment of confidence. By means of such adjustments we should reach a lower and more stable basis for a business revival later on.

One important fact should not be overlooked. Our crops are bringing profitable prices, and there is sure to be a good demand, both foreign and domestic, for all that our farms have produced. This will prove a valuable support to business throughout the country, and will do much to offset any reaction in the industrial field.

Many securities are now at bargain prices, and small investors have collectively absorbed considerable amounts. Security prices have also reached a point where European buying must become a factor. Europe always takes our obligations at a price, and as soon as convinced of our determination to secure financial reforms will renew its confidence in American stocks and bonds.

The elimination of big plunging speculators will do much towards this restoration of confidence. In this connection it is to be hoped the Administration at Washington will pursue its reforms with due regard to the sensitiveness of the situation. These reforms are necessary, and no one doubts for a moment the President's firmness in carrying out his well known policy. There is, therefore, the less necessity for disturbing reiterations in times of stress.

An unfortunate and unnecessary tendency to hoard cash exists, which aggravates the money situation and should be discouraged at every opportunity. In general, however, the outlook is much improved; the worst is evidently over, and investments can be made upon a safer and more profitable basis than at any time this year.

Deep Thought and Meditatio[n]

Well, I am sitting here by th[e] candle and I am thinking. Th[is] morning I read the account of th[e] closing of a bank in San Fra[n]cisco and I wish I had the spa[ce] and the room to just tell peopl[e] what I think about the financial situation. Money matters ar[e] more essential than those of love and devotion and in lots of cases the love is fostered and increased by the knowledge of a big fat bank roll—but let everybody wh[o] has money just keep a level hea[d] —not draw it out—and if you d[o] bring it to this store and buy goo[d] clothes with it—we are looking f[or] a run on this clothes bank [illegible] you can't start it too quick.

SAY SUSPECT U. S. DESERTER

F. M. Pierce of 727 Fourteenth street was arrested at his home last night on the charge of stealing a gold watch from S. M. Finn, proprietor of the Ferry Lodging House in San Francisco. Finn complained that on Wednesday afternoon Pierce rented a room in his place and that, striking up an acquaintance with his new roomer, he went into the apartment and, after a conversation, fell asleep there. When he awoke he claims that Pierce and his watch had both disappeared.

The detectives sent out after Pierce found him at his home and he seemed greatly surprised at his arrest. Today the police state that they have learned that the accused man is a deserter from the U. S. S. Milwaukee, on board which he was formerly employed as a yeoman. When his account with the law is straightened out he will probably be turned over to the naval authorities.

If Finn swears to a complaint against Pierce he will be sent over to San Francisco at once.

October Police Court Receipts Break Record

October, 1907, is the banner month for receipts in the history of Police Court No. 1. The total fines and forfeitures collected during the month in Judge Mortimer Smith's court amounted to the total of $3536. This is nearly $1000 better than the largest month on record before. And only a decade ago the yearly receipts from the police courts did not reach this figure.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight, [illegible], dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. [illegible] R. Seymour, 1910 Milvia street, Berkeley, Cal., says: "I will recommend Doan's Kidney Pills wherever I go. For four or five years I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint. At times I was miserable on account of the distress in my back and often mornings I could barely straighten when I got out of bed. Besides the dull aching there was a weakness and lameness that made it difficult for me to rise. The kidney secretions were also irregular and frequent, accompanied by a scalding sensation. I also had rheumatism in my right arm and shoulder, and one year I was so bad that I could not bend my arm. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a box. I was greatly surprised at the quick relief I obtained from their use and by the time I had used the contents of two boxes my back was entirely free from all aching and pain and all signs of disorder with the kidney secretions was corrected. I have felt a general improvement in my health and have had scarcely any trouble from rheumatism since using Doan's Kidney Pills. I give the entire credit to this valuable remedy and am pleased to recommend it to others."
